

ALLIES ARE PUSHING ON OTTOMAN CAPITOL

ARMIES OF BALKAN STATES CONTINUE VICTORIOUS MARCH ON CONSTANTINOPLE.

CRUCIAL BATTLE SOON

Nazim Pasha at Head of Four Turkish Corpses is All That Lies Between Allies and Their Coveted Goal.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.] London, Oct. 29.—Scattered at strategic points from Scutari Lake near the northeastern coast of Turkey in Europe to Turnova, 20 miles from the shore of the Black Sea, the allied armies of the Balkan states today are continuing their victorious advance on the capital of the Ottoman government.

A large portion of the railway systems in Turkey extending from Constantinople to the Bulgarian frontier by way of Adrianople and from Saloniki to Mitrovitz are in the hands of the allied armies.

Hold Important Roads. A large number of wagon roads are also held by the invading troops and many highways which they do not hold they are threatening at different points.

The Bulgarians having taken Tuleburgas, and Demotica besides capturing the stronghold of the Turks at Kikr-Klesse and completing the surrounding Adrianople, are now moving southward, and along the Erkene river which has its mouth near Dede Agatch on the Aegean sea.

Pasha Heads Turks. Opposite to them are four Turkish army corps under command of Nazim Pasha, the minister of war of the Ottoman government and commander in chief of the Sultan's field forces. He is credited with the statement that he will stem the advance of the Bulgarians or die on the plains of Adrianople. His position at present is a perilous one.

Expect Terrific Battle. Chicago, Oct. 29.—Cable dispatches to the Chicago Daily News from Constantinople on the one hand and from Sofia, Bulgaria, on the other, agree that the successes of the allies against Turkey thus far have been only steps leading up to what is expected to be a terrific battle to be fought between Adrianople and Constantinople in which the Turks will make their master effort to save their capital and the ultimate victory.

Turkish Supplies Cut Off. Vienna, Austria, Oct. 29.—The Montenegrins have cut off supplies from the Turkish forces in Scutari, where provisions already were scarce, according to a dispatch to the Reichspost from Scutari by way of Alessio. The Montenegrins occupied the heights of Busato, Rogame and Cazani, all of which overlook Scutari and they have entrenched themselves there with a strong force of artillery. The Malissory tribesmen again attacked the Turkish forces to the east of Scutari on Friday, but were repulsed after 10 hours fighting. The Turkish commander at Scutari is trying to induce the Malissory tribesmen to attack the Montenegrin troops from the south so that the road to the port of Alessio could be used as a line of retreat of the Turkish army in case of necessity.

Strong Fortress Doomed. Athens, Greece, Oct. 29.—The strong Turkish fortress of Verria has been placed absolutely at the mercy of the invading Greek army which has captured the Tripotamos reefs forming the key to the situation. The capture of the town of Verria itself is only a question of hours. The whole of the Turkish army around Monastir will be cut off from Verria Falls and will be unable to communicate with Saloniki or Constantinople. Verria lies to the north of the town of Servia on the way to Saloniki to which city a railroad runs.

Turks Retake Town. Constantinople, Oct. 29.—The Turkish town of Servia recently captured by the Greek army is reported to have been re-occupied by Ottoman troops, according to telegrams from Saloniki published in the newspapers here.

Bulgarian bands have destroyed the lighthouse of the Turkish seaport of Inia on the Black Sea coast, 75 miles from Adrianople.

Are Evacuating. Belgrade, Serbia, Oct. 29.—The Turkish troops that evacuated Jislj and Velos are retreating toward Mostar and Saloniki pursued by Serbian cavalry according to a report from Serbian headquarters at the front. The Serbians captured large stores of war material.

Working on Question. Vienna, Oct. 29.—The Austro-Hungarian foreign office is working in close unity with the nation's allies in constant agreement with the other powers according to a statement made today by Premier Count Stuergh, in reply to a social democratic intervention at the opening of the lower house of the Austrian parliament.

JOHNSON INVADERS EASTON AND IS IN GOOD FORM

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.] Boston, Oct. 29.—Governor Johnson, progressive candidate for vice president, passed through this city today on his way from Maine to Connecticut. Although the governor made ten outdoor speeches yesterday his voice today was in good condition.

NEW HIGH POWER NAVAL STATION IS TESTED TODAY

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.] Washington, Oct. 29.—First tests of the navy's new high powered wireless station at Arlington, Va., last night and early today were a complete success. Officers in charge declined to discuss the performance.

HALTS PROCEEDINGS IN TRIAL OF WOMAN

Prosecution of Mrs. Lindloff on Murder Charge Delayed by Charges Made by Her Counsel Against Officer.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.] Chicago, Oct. 29.—Prosecution of Mrs. Louisa Lindloff on charges of murdering her 15 year old son by poisoning temporarily was halted today when Attorney George Remus, counsel for the woman asked that Police Captain Bernard Baer be cited for contempt of court for "intimidation of witnesses." The attorney complained against the captain's rebuke yesterday to Miss Sadie Ray, a state's witness. The official accused her of actively conducting the defense in the case. Judge Windes, before whom the case is being tried, dismissed the plea for contempt citation and warned the principals that witnesses must not be approached or interfered with. Dr. J. W. Herrington of Milwaukee was the first witness examined today. He attested Frieda Graunke, a daughter of the defendant's first husband and whose death under unusual circumstances is being gone into by the prosecution as corollary evidence of the present charge against the woman. Dr. Herrington said he had urged that the girl be sent to a hospital but that Mrs. Lindloff refused. He added that the child's symptoms were those of mineral poisoning of the same kind charged by the state as having appeared in the death of Mrs. Lindloff's son.

Mrs. Martha Greiner of Fifth street, Milwaukee, said the defendant had predicted the death of Julius Graunke, her first husband and the father of Frieda, about a month before he died and after he had been ill several months. She also said that Graunke complained one day to Mrs. Lindloff then Mrs. Graunke, in the presence of the witness, "Louise, there was something in my last medicine." The witness said Mrs. Lindloff had told her after the death of Graunke, "I'm going to get more than $2,000 insurance money and I'm going to buy a saloon and get out and have a good time."

This she did, said the witness. Prof. Walter S. Haines, the poison expert, testified directly that Arthur, Alma and Mr. Lindloff the second husband had been poisoned.

TAFT HELD MEETING WITH THE CABINET

Short Meeting Was Held Today Before President Departed for New York City.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.] Washington, Oct. 29.—A short meeting of the cabinet was held today just before President Taft left for New York to hold a final conference with republican leaders and to witness the launching tomorrow of the battleship New York. The conference will be held at the Hotel Manhattan tonight. Chairman Hill of the republican national committee, C. P. Taft and Henry W. Taft, the president's brother and other leaders are expected to be present. The president will leave New York at midnight, Wednesday, arriving in Washington early Thursday. The cabinet meeting today brought only three members to the executive offices, Secretary Knox, Secretary Stimson and Secretary Meyer. There was a general discussion of important topics, but details of departmental and other questions were left for a further meeting. The illness of Vice-president Sherman was discussed and sorrow was expressed by the president and members of his official family.

HOCKIN ACCUSED OF AIDING GOVERNMENT

Witness in Dynamiters' Trial Says Alleged Dynamiter Gave Information to Prosecution.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.] Indianapolis, Oct. 29.—Herbert S. Hockin, accused of being a dynamiter equally guilty with the McNamara brothers, again was charged by a witness at the "dynamite conspiracy" trial today with secretly having given evidence to the government. Charles E. Freeman, a public accountant testified that during the federal grand jury investigation of alleged shipment of explosives, Hockin voluntarily turned over hundreds of letters taken from J. J. McNamara's office. Two other witnesses had said Hockin aided the prosecution and district attorney Charles W. Muller charged him with having "betrayed" the other defendants.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.] Washington, Oct. 29.—Regulations of railways limiting the use of excursion tickets sold at reduced rates to the dates shown upon their face were held by the interstate commerce commission today to be just and reasonable.

Japanese Cue Expert Coming.

Berlin, Oct. 29.—Koji Yamada, said to be the greatest of Japanese billiard players and entitled to rank among the world's foremost experts with the cue, sailed on the Kronprinz Wilhelm today for New York, to take part in the world's championship tournament soon to be held in that city.

FINDS HIS FIANCEE CRUELY MURDERED; SEEK MISSING PAIR

Miss Sophia G. Singer Who Was to Be Wedded Tomorrow to William Worthen Found Dead in Chicago Rooming House.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.] Chicago, Oct. 29.—The romance of an elopement was wiped out by the gruesome murder of a girl here today when Miss Sophia G. Singer, an attractive Baltimore girl, was found murdered. Several hundred dollars in money and jewelry brought from her Maryland home to grace her wedding tomorrow to William Worthen, a street car conductor, were missing and robbery has been accepted as the motive for the crime.

Worthen discovered the girl's body when he returned home after midnight to the suite occupied by them and two vaudeville performers in a rooming house at 3229 Indiana avenue. Miss Singer had been bound and gagged and struck with terrific force with a "billy" made from a broom door knob wrapped in a bandkerchief. Her body was entangled in a blanket.

The woman's skull had been crushed. Charles Conway, said to be a high diver, and his wife who also is known as Beatrice Riall, and May Monte, a variety actress, who roomed in the same house and who had been befriended by Worthen are being sought in connection with the crime.

The body of Miss Singer was found on the bed in the room occupied by the "Conways." The couple had been in the house during the evening, but no trace of them has been found since the discovery of the body. According to Worthen Miss Singer was an acquaintance of Mrs. Conway who was known to her as Miss Riall and it was through the latter's invitation that he and his sweetheart went to room at the same house.

When they moved into the room where the murder was committed only yesterday. They had previously lived a few blocks further north on the same street. Worthen told the police he had paid the expenses of the Conways as well as those of himself and Miss Singer. Worthen, who was held by the police, declared that before leaving the house last night he handed his fiancée $48 in the presence of the Conways and then went down town. It was after midnight when he returned and found the hallway splattered with blood. He aroused others in the house after finding that Miss Singer was not in her own apartment. A key to the Conway's room was finally furnished by Mrs. Julia McCarthy, keeper of the house, and the door was opened.

A crime was apparent and further investigation showed that the missing girl had given several articles of jewelry. A trail of blood led to a kitchen, which the four had the use of. There the table was found spotted with blood as was the floor. A door knob lay on the floor wrapped in a handkerchief saturated with blood with a leather shoe string attached to it, loop fashion, making a "billy" of it. Worthen said Conway had once exhibited the wedding to Miss Singer with the remark, "This is what I knock 'em out with."

It is according to Worthen's story he met Miss Singer in Baltimore several months ago while he was employed there with a street car company. He said her mother was in comfortable circumstances and when he decided to come to Chicago with the idea in view of locating there, she expressed the desire to accompany him.

He told the police he had spent most of his life on a farm near Baltimore with his father who still resides there. Worthen, who is 23 years old, will be held pending the outcome of the coroner's investigation today.

Came of Good Family. Baltimore, Oct. 29.—Sophia G. Singer, who was found murdered in a rooming house at Chicago, came of a good family in this city. Her mother, Mrs. Louise Summer, is a widow living in the northern part of the city. Miss Singer was an actress and had appeared at a local amusement park last summer. She left Baltimore on Oct. 5, leaving word that she would return in about five weeks. Frank O. Singer, Jr., a prominent builder of this city, was her brother. William R. Worthen, who was her reputed sweetheart, formerly was a railway conductor here. He quit his position about a month ago. Worthen was questioned for several hours by police who endeavored to substantiate the fact he first related. The recital was the same as Worthen's first story.

LOUISIANA STATE FAIR OPENS GATES TOMORROW.

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.] Shreveport, La., Oct. 29.—The annual Louisiana State Fair will open its gates tomorrow for a week's business. Governor Hall and his staff will attend the opening. All of the exhibition buildings and pavilions are filled with attractive displays and the indications are that the fair will be the best ever held in this state. The management has provided many free attractions, including a three days' program of harness and running races.

Observe John Mitchell Day. Hazleton, Pa., Oct. 29.—The miners throughout the anthracite coal region today held their annual celebration of John Mitchell Day. Business was everywhere suspended and many mass meetings were held in commemoration of the successful termination of the 1890 strike of the anthracite men under the direction of John Mitchell, at that time president of the United Mine Workers.

DECISION IN CLANCY CASE WAS AFFIRMED

SUPREME COURT HANDS DOWN DECISION AFFIRMING THAT OF LOWER COURT.

SOCIALISTS DEFEATED

Attempt of Socialists to Oust Chief of Milwaukee Fire Department Was Defeated by Ruling of the Courts.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.] Madison, Oct. 29.—Fire Chief Thomas A. Clancy of Milwaukee today won his case against the board of fire and police commissioners of Milwaukee when the supreme court handed down a decision upholding the decision of Circuit Judge James A. Wickham of Eau Claire in which the latter reversed the ruling of the board which discharged the fire chief.

The supreme court dismissed an appeal by the city attorney of Milwaukee to reverse the lower court's decision. Chief Clancy was suspended on August 5, 1911 on charges filed by Edward F. Welles, a discharged fireman who preferred charges of irregularity and incompetency against Clancy.

After a review of the case the board of commissioners discharged the chief on Sept. 23, 1911. The record of the proceedings was certified to Circuit Judge Wickham on Oct. 12, last year and several weeks later the court reinstated Clancy.

This was an appeal from a judgment of the circuit court of Milwaukee county, Judge Wickham of Eau Claire presiding, reversing the decision of the board of fire and police commissioners of Milwaukee by which the board discharged Clancy as chief of the fire department.

The legislature passed a law permitting the board of fire and police commissioners to try the fire chief upon complaint, and giving the circuit court the authority to review the action of the commission. In this case, Welles, an ex-fireman, filed charges against Chief Clancy. The fire and police board, then dominated by the socialists, heard the testimony and discharged Clancy, who then appealed to the circuit court. Judge Wickham reversed the commission's order and Clancy was reinstated. The socialist city attorney thereupon appealed to the supreme court to reverse the lower court's order reinstating the chief.

Counsel for Clancy maintained that the law does not permit of an appeal from the circuit court to a higher tribunal and that this appeal was prosecuted by the city attorney without authority. The new non-partisan city administration had instructed the socialist city attorney to dismiss the appeal and not waste money in prosecuting it further. The latter official refused to do this, however, and the case was brought before the supreme court for a final decision on the status of the complex suit.

The city attorney argued that the common council had no jurisdiction to order an appeal to the supreme court dismissed after it had been perfected by him.

The supreme court today decided in case that District Attorney Fred Arnold of Eau Claire, county, cannot recover damages from the Rev. Granville Rice who on Oct. 18, 1911, for an alleged libelous sermon, preached in Eau Claire. The occasion was one of qualified privilege and the publication was made in good faith and without malice the court decides.

SHERMAN NO BETTER RELAPSE FOLLOWING ENCOURAGING NIGHT

Distressing Condition of Monday Returns This Afternoon Although He Passed Restful Night.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.] Utica, N. Y., Oct. 29.—After a restful night and a generally improved condition which continued well into the forenoon, Vice President Sherman suffered a recurrence of the distressing conditions which marked his case yesterday.

Vice President Sherman passed a restful night and Dr. Peck stated today that his patient was in better condition than he had been at any time during the past four days. He could not say that the critical danger had passed or give any assurance as to what might follow in the case of one so weakened by suffering with the complications surrounding Mr. Sherman. However, he felt some encouragement. Another bulletin was issued about one o'clock.

CAPTURED CONVICT WHO ESCAPED JAIL

Desire to See His Mother Reported Dying, Led to Apprehension of Tony Landers.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.] Chicago, Oct. 29.—An escaped convict's efforts to get to see his mother who was reported to him to be dying led to his apprehension today at Worth, Ill. Tony Landers, one of the trio who broke jail at Joliet penitentiary, Sunday, was the man captured. He told his captors he had left his companions not more than ten minutes before and the posse which took Landers went to seek the others. William Dunne and Frank Thompson, Landers was overtaken in a cornfield after a farmer had notified the police. "I had been told my mother was dying," he said. "I wanted to see her before she went, even if it cost me my liberty. I have a gun with me, but when I saw I was surrounded I realized there was no use to make a fight."

POSTPONE HEARING FOR CAMERON GIRL

Hearing of Charges of Disorderly Conduct Against Minneapolis Girl Set Over to November 14.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.] Chicago, Oct. 29.—Hearing of the charges of disorderly conduct against Lucile Cameron, the Minneapolis girl, whose name has been connected with that of Jack Johnson, the negro pugilist, today was postponed until November 14. Mrs. Cameron-Falconet, mother of the girl, refused to discuss a report that she had received a letter from her husband that Mr. Falconet in Minneapolis informed her that she must give up either her daughter or him. Charges of abduction against Johnson were postponed until a later date.

UNVEILED BUST OF HICKS AT OSHKOSH

Marble Bust of Col. Hicks Placed in The Public Library at Oshkosh Last Night.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.] Oshkosh, Oct. 29.—At the public library last night a splendid likeness of Col. John Hicks in marble was presented and accepted by the board of directors. The sculptured bust on a marble pedestal was the gift of Signor Trentanove, of Florence, Italy, who has carried out a number of commissions for Col. Hicks for bronze and marble statues for the city of Oshkosh. With the bust was a letter from the noted artist in which he stated he desired to give the city the gift because he appreciated what Mr. Hicks had done in the way of gifts to the city and also he felt that Mr. Hicks was one of the most patriotic citizens and was a lover of real art. The bust comes unsolicited in every way and came to this country a short time ago along with the two life size bronze lions which Col. Hicks recently presented to the library.

OPEN REFORM ASSOCIATION CONVENTION IN HUB CITY.

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.] Boston, Mass., Oct. 29.—The National Reform Association, the membership of which includes many active workers in the suppression of vice and the improvement of public morals, held its annual convention in Boston today. Delegates from nearly all sections of the country were in attendance. Anthony Comstock of New York spoke on "The Children of the Nation versus the Moral Cancer Planters of our Day," and Rev. G. M. Elliott of St. Augustine, Fla., discussed "The Responsibility of the Nation for the Profanation of the Sabbath by the United States Mail Service and Interstate Commerce."

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.] Toledo, O., Oct. 29.—Nearly all of the bishops of the Methodist Episcopal Church are attending their annual general meeting which opened in this city today. The purpose of the conference is to afford an opportunity for the bishops to exchange opinions on various matters relating to the church work.

HOLD UP TRAIN AND BLAST EXPRESS SAFE

Three Youthful Bandits Commit Daring Robbery of M. K. and T. Train Near Muskogee, Oklahoma.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.] Muskogee, Okla., Oct. 29.—Three youthful robbers held up a southbound Missouri, Kansas and Texas train south of Eufaula today, compelled the engineer to detach the express and baggage cars and then run them ahead. Then they blasted and lifted the express safe. Company officials believe the robbers got several thousand dollars.

Set Trestle on Fire. By setting fire to a trestle near the town of Wirth the bandits had no trouble in flagging the train to a halt. Although the flames threatened to destroy the trestle before their work was completed, the robbers moved deliberately, covering the engineer and fireman with their revolvers and ordering them from the locomotive cab. J. A. Dolan, conductor, leaped from a coach and he was lined up beside the engineer. A porter also fell a victim to his curiosity and was made to stand beside the conductor.

While one robber held the line of employees the other two uncoupled the engine, baggage and express cars from the coaches. They then forced the trainmen into the cab and ordered the engineer to open the throttle and the engine pulling the two cars shot across the burning bridge.

Bridge Collapsed. What remained of the structure fell into the water a minute after the cars had passed. Half a mile on the other side of the bridge the bandits ordered the engineer to stop. The safe in the express car was dynamited and the robbers fled to the woods with their plunder. Express officials fear several thousand dollars was stolen. Posses are in pursuit.

CAPITAL SITE ISSUE LEADS IN OKLAHOMA

Overshadows Presidential Contest in Popular Interest—Guthrie Fights to Regain It.

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.] Oklahoma City, Okla., Oct. 29.—Almost overshadowing the presidential contest in point of interest for Oklahomans is the state capital fight which will be settled by a vote of the people in the election one week from today. Guthrie is putting up the fight of her life to recover the prize lost two years ago, while Oklahoma City is waging a state-wide campaign to retain the capital. Guthrie obtained the initiation of a proposed amendment to the state constitution making that city the permanent capital of the state. This amendment will be voted on next Tuesday. If Guthrie wins there will be little chance of the capital being moved again, as the matter of obtaining an amendment to the constitution is difficult. For the same reason, however, it is generally conceded that the former capital has great odds to overcome if it wins against Oklahoma City.

FEAR ENTIRE AUTO PARTY MET DEATH

Identification of Man's Body Leads Authorities to Believe Others in Party Were Drowned.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.] Sioux City, Ia., Oct. 29.—Identification today of a body found in the Missouri river Saturday near Winnebago, Nebraska as that of George Miller, a contractor of this city started an investigation by authorities here of a report that an auto party of five had perished in the river. Miller, with Bertha Holbrook, of Sioux City, Frank Stamper of Quincy, Iowa, his Hall of Stamps and Louis Matwig of Danbury, Iowa, left here for Omaha in Matwig's automobile Oct. 1. Investigation by authorities early today elicited no information as to the whereabouts of the other four members of the party. Money and valuables found on Miller's body was believed to preclude a theory of robbery.

MAY CAUSE TROUBLE BY CONSUL'S ARREST

Mexican Government May Be Called Upon to Explain Action Against Belgian Representative.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.] Washington, Oct. 29.—International complications may follow the action of the Mexican government in arresting the Belgian consul at Maridlo, Yucatan, which was today reported to the state department. There is no explanation of the arrest. Unless he is speedily released the Belgian government is reasonably certain to cause an inquiry. Officials here expect the state department may be requested by the Belgian government to look into the affair through the agency of the American consul at Maridlo.

DEMAND A PENSION FUND FOR DEPENDENT WIDOWS.

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.] Portland, Ore., Oct. 29.—A strong effort to have the state establish a pension fund for dependent widows is to be made by the Oregon Congress of Mothers, which assembled in Portland today for its annual session. The proposed measure has the endorsement of Governor West and many other persons of influence.

ELECTION OF TAFT WILL BENEFIT OHIO

PRESIDENT SENDS LETTER TO MR. GEIER THANKING HIM FOR WORK IN HOME STATE.

TARIFF FIGURES GIVEN

Points to Various Duties Which Protect Ohio Products and Disaster Which Wilson's Election Would Bring.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.] Washington, Oct. 29.—"No man would care to have his state left him, but wholly apart from selfish reasons, I want to see Ohio go republican by a large majority," said President Taft in a letter to Fred A. Geier of Cincinnati, made public today at the White House. The president attacked Governor Wilson and the democratic party on the tariff question and said that Ohio would suffer particularly if the present tariff protecting the steel, wool and pottery business were disturbed. The letter follows:

"My Dear Mr. Geier: I am most grateful to learn of the splendid work which you are doing to arouse the business men in Ohio and of the excellent prospects of victory for the republican ticket in my own state. Of course the fact that it is my own state makes me all the more pleased. As you can well appreciate, no man would care to have his state fall him, but wholly apart from selfish reasons, I want to see Ohio go republican by a large majority."

"The injury which Ohio would suffer from a democratic victory would probably exceed that inflicted on any other state in the union. That is clearly shown by the efforts which our democratic friends have already made to rob Ohio industries of the protection which is essential to their continuance, to say nothing of their prosperity."

"You, of course, realize how disastrous the steel bill which I was compelled to veto would have proved to our state. Ohio has 523,000 persons engaged in manufacturing and a capital of $1,300,000,000 invested in manufacturing plants. How large a proportion of all this is involved in the manufacture of machine tools you know better than I, but it is a fact that the democrats, without rhyme or reason, put all machine tools on free list. Then, too, they cut the duty on steam engines from 30 to 15 per cent, and throughout that bill they reduced duties until the average was 22.03 per cent, while even the Wilson bill imposed an average duty on the same products of 37.97 per cent—and you know the disaster which followed its enactment."

"In their wool bill the democrats struck a vital blow at the wool industry. The report of the Tariff Board, the accuracy of which has never been challenged, shows that an average duty of 35 per cent is necessary to make the raising of wool profitable, but, absolutely needless to say, the democrats reduced the duty on raw wool to 29 per cent, and as for the manufacturers of woollens, the democratic bill would have put them entirely out of business, leaving our farmers with no home market for their wool and throwing hundreds of thousands of employes out of work."

"Does it not strike you as supremely ridiculous for Governor Wilson vaguely to intimate that if he is elected he will make such a gentle reduction of the duties that business will not be injured, when his party has, recently put itself on record as attempting such reckless changes of the tariff that I had not vetted their measures we would ever now be confronted with a panic?"

"What, think you, could Mr. Wilson do in the White House were there democratic majorities in both houses of congress, majorities made up in large part of the same men who passed the steel and wool and the cotton and free list bills which I was compelled to veto and the veto of which he has himself criticized, and especially, what could he do, however good his intentions, when he had been elected on a platform which declares all tariff imposed for purposes of protection unconstitutional?"

"During the present session of congress the democrats lack control of the senate, and while they have been able to persuade a sufficient number of republican senators to vote for their tariff measures, those same republicans have in every case effected some increase of the duties over the point fixed by the democrats in the House. But if Governor Wilson should be elected it would mean also the election of a democratic majority in the senate, and then even the compromises effected by the urgent republicans would seem mild reductions as compared to what democratic majorities in both houses would send to Mr. Wilson for his signature, and which he could not refuse to sign."

"What would happen to the pottery industry if the democrats were in control of both houses and of the White House? You and I know how important that industry is to the welfare of thousands of families in Ohio. In the men engaged in that industry in the United States receive an average wage of 24.8 cents an hour, in England they receive only 11 cents an hour, and in Japan, one of our greatest competitors, only 3.25 cents an hour. Even with the present tariff Japan is sending hundreds of thousands of dollars worth of pottery into this market every year, so that it is not hard to foresee what would become of the industry were the democrats to win. When they were in power before they reduced the duty in the Wilson bill, from 60 to 30 and 35 per cent, and what was the result? The men in that industry, after being on strike for several months, were compelled to

The biggest surprise in football last week was the defeat of Michigan at the hands of Syracuse. "Hurricane" Yost's team, touted by many as the strongest in the west, was beaten by the decisive score of 18 to 7. Michigan fans are keenly disappointed, as they had expected the team to make a record this year, something like the Wolverines used to make years ago, when Yost's "point-a-minute" machine was in its best running order.

Saturday's games in the east reduced the number of pennant contenders to three—Princeton, Harvard and Yale. Princeton beat Dartmouth by a score of 22 to 7. Harvard defeated Brown to the tune of 30 to 10; and Yale triumphed over Washington and Jefferson, score 13 to 3. From now on the struggle for the championship of the east is bound to be interesting as the big ones are soon to clash.

Mrs. Helena Hathaway Robinson Britton, owner of the St. Louis Cardinals, can make $100,000 very easily if she wants to. The way to do it will be to take up the offer of Richard Kinsella, former scout for the Cardinals, who wants to pay her that much for the use of her club next year. She must agree to let him employ Roger Bresnahan as manager.

"I consider him one of the greatest managers in the game," says Kinsella, "and if he is allowed to handle the club in his own way I'm willing to take the chance with the $100,000. The Cardinals succeeded in 1911 because Bresnahan was the real manager; they failed this year because he couldn't make any move that he wanted."

Str Thomas Lipton, who is breezing around America for a few weeks, insists that he'd like to try again for the old America's cup. Lipton is some yachtsman, but he says the rules of the race must be changed before it will be any use for him to attempt to win. "I certainly shall make a challenge for the cup," he declares. "If the New York Yacht Club officials can see their way clear to changing the conditions under which the race has been run since its inauguration sixty years ago. Under the old conditions or rules it is impossible for a boat to cross the ocean that could compete on an equal basis with a boat built on this side of the water, as the American craft could be constructed on the most freakish lines."

Cleveland fight fans expect the Phil Brock-Knockout Brown fight in that city on Nov. 7 to be one of the most sensational they have witnessed in some time. Brock realizes that it will be the chance of a lifetime, and he is training as he never trained before. Adam Ryan, the well-known Philadelphia trainer, who is familiar with Brown's every move and knows how to circumvent him in many, is giving Brock some pointers this week.

"Old Cr" Young, most honored and most famous of all pitchers, announced his retirement last spring and it was thought he had quit the game for good. There is now a strong probability that he will return to baseball next year, not as a player, but as a manager. The Portland club of the Pacific Coast league has made him an offer which he hardly feels like refusing.

MOTORCYCLISTS DEFY CAMERA; RIDE SO FAST CLEAR ACTION PICTURE IMPOSSIBLE

At the St. Louis Motor track.

The accompanying picture gives a good idea of the tremendous speed of the motorcycle races this summer. The riders are seen in a blur, and the action is so fast that it is impossible to get a clear picture of them in action. The race is a popular one in the near future.

WENT HUNTING DUCKS IN THE OPEN WATER

Three Jefferson County Young Men Plead Guilty to Violating Game Law Last Sunday—Are Fined.

James Alderman, Severt Helder, and Leroy Hanthorn plead guilty before Justice O. P. Stoppenback at Jefferson yesterday to shooting ducks in the open water on Sunday, October 22. All were sentenced to pay a fine of $25 and costs, but the fine of Hanthorn, who is a young boy ignorant of the law and assisting in the support of his mother, was remitted on the payment of costs. The arrests were made by Deputy Game Warden William Mason of this city. Their guns were confiscated.

They Know What's Coming. When a man begins his after-dinner speech by saying: "I heard a good story the other day," a hopeless look overspreads the faces of those who are listening.

Deafness Cannot Be Cured

by local applications, as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure deafness, and that is by constitutional remedies. Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube is inflamed, you have a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed, deafness is the result, and unless the inflammation can be taken out and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever. No case out of ten are caused by Catarrh, which is nothing but an inflamed condition of the mucous surfaces.

We will give one hundred dollars for any case of Deafness caused by catarrh that is cured by Hall's Catarrh Cure. Send for circulars, free.

MISSOURI CHAMP IS SOME FIGHTER; IN THREE YEARS HASN'T BEEN LICKED

Freddie Daniels of St. Joseph, champion lightweight of Missouri who fought Ad Wolgast in a six-round draw at Quincy, Ill., last Friday, has been fighting three years and has never been whipped. Clarence English, the veteran welterweight and batting champion, former lightweight champion of the world, who has spent considerable of his time during the past year in St. Joseph, have been Daniels' victors recently.

Since he entered the fight game in 1910 Daniels has won decisions over Kid Dorsey, Young McDonald, Charley Adams, Johnny Greedy, Eddie Howard, Mickey Sheridan, Jack Caesar and Harry Buckles. He has also not lost to Barada, Pierce Matthews, Paddy Keller, Danny Goodman, Billy Wagner and Ad Wolgast.

MADE RECORD TRIP IN BALLOON RACE

Helvitia, Contestant for Gordon-Bennett Cup, Accomplished Longest Flight on Record.

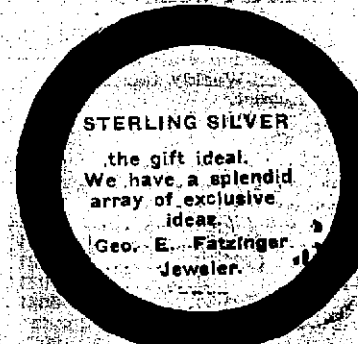

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.]
Berlin, Germany, Oct. 29.—Several of the 20 balloons participating in the international race for the Gordon-Bennett cup landed yesterday. The first five descended in northeastern Germany. One of these, comprised the American Million Population (John Barry). The Helvitia, which accomplished the longest flight yet recorded made a storm landing 26 miles to the west of Danzig as the pilot feared to cross the Baltic sea. The distance from the starting point was 760 kilometers (474 miles).

This Ten-Dollar Test

We will give you a ten dollar bill to place in the door of a Favorite Base Burner.

If you can pull it out without tearing it in two when the door is closed, we will make you a present of it.

Favorite Base Burners

More Heat—Less Cost

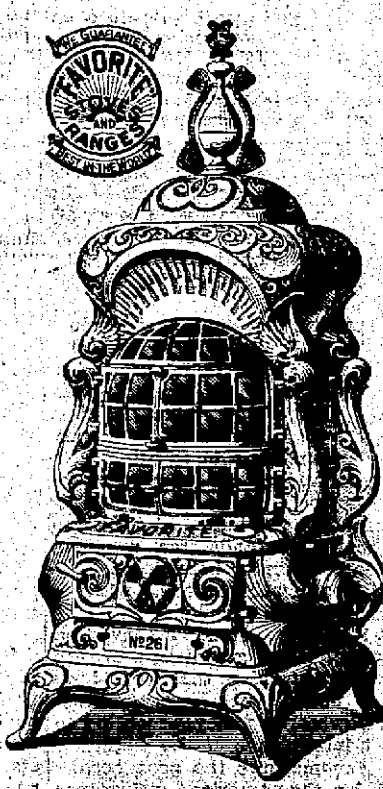

are fitted "paper-tight." It costs more money to make them this way. But it cuts fuel bills in half.

The makers of Favorites invented and patented paper-tight fitting—a wonderful advance in heating stove construction. The doors, registers and frames of every Favorite are fitted perfectly true and tight.

This insures complete control of the fire. Favorites have held fire for five days and nights, without attention. They extract every unit of heat from the fuel. The Favorite soon saves enough in the coal bin to pay for itself.

No other stove but the Favorite Base Burner is fitted paper-tight. You cannot afford to place any heater in your home that is not built in this accurate, fuel-saving way.

The Favorite has many other remarkable and exclusive points of advantage that put it in a class by itself. Yet it costs no more than common stoves. Come and see it.

THE NEWSPAPER'S MISSION.

A newspaper can drop the same thought into a thousand minds at the same moment. A newspaper is an adviser who does not require to be sought, but goes out briefly every day of common weal, without distracting private affairs.

Newspapers, therefore, become more necessary in proportion as men become more equal individuals, and more to be feared. To suppose that they only serve to protect freedom would be to diminish their importance; they maintain civilization.

Notwithstanding all the faults of our newspapers, there is one thing that can be said in behalf of American journalism. It stands for unselfish work for community betterment.

It is manifestly suicidal when a newspaper permits personal spite to govern its policy. Hence a conviction and tradition has grown up in the newspaper fraternity that considerations of public welfare alone must govern newspaper policy, according to the best intelligence of the editor.

Who can measure the good accomplished by the American newspaper as a righter of wrongs, as a proclaimer of hidden evils, as a persuader in campaigns of public enterprise and business advancement?

Wherever a charitable or religious society needs help, wherever a scamp is to be ousted from office, the public instinctively turns to the newspaper for help. Here and there a newspaper shows the yellow streak and fails to assist, but it is not often.

In view of these services, says the Fourth Estate, there is a growing recognition of the honorable character of journalism as a profession, a growing disposition to co-operate with the newspaper by helping it obtain all legitimate news, and a growing tendency to extend adequate financial support through subscriptions and advertising.

This estimate of the newspaper's mission, from the Auxiliary press, is fair and impartial. The yellow in journalism is the exception, and not the rule, and wherever it exists, a yellow constituency demands the sensational.

While the press is not engaged in a philanthropic mission, and seldom goes to extremes, as a radical reformer, it is usually found in the front rank, as a promoter of business and moral reform.

There was a time, not so many years ago, when the building of a newspaper was largely mechanical, but no line of business has been so thoroughly revolutionized, during the past decade, as the newspaper business.

Every line which appears today in the up-to-date paper, has a news value. This applies not only to the telegraph and local columns, and the long list of special features, but to the advertising columns as well.

The merchant has been educated to appreciate the value of saying something in the space which he occupies, and as a result, he has a new story every day, edited as carefully as any other part of the paper.

This means a vast amount of work to the newspaper office, not only in the mechanical department, but in the advertising department as well, for in the inland cities especially, the average merchant depends on the newspaper office to write and edit his copy. The work involved requires good talent, and the effort put forth is not always appreciated.

The newspaper, to be of value as an advertising medium, must have circulation, and to secure and maintain this valuable asset the paper must cater to the demands of a varied constituency, and at the same time pursue a straight forward policy which shall command respect.

The Gazette is attempting to meet these demands in the field which it has so long occupied. That its efforts are appreciated is evidenced by the fact that the paper is read in 2,840 homes in the city, which has but 3,200 families. That means that 12,000 people in Janesville see the paper every day. This is independent of the county circulation, which is very thorough, for there is scarcely a family in the county where the Gazette is not found, and religiously read. If you want to talk to the people the Gazette is your opportunity.

INTENSIFIED FARMING.

The new generation is taking an intelligent interest in scientific farming, and all sorts of experiments are being tried to increase the yield of crops and reduce the acreage. The Farm and Fireside thus describes a small farm and what it produces:

"One of the most interesting farms in Ohio is a twenty-five-acre tract of land near Arcanum, in Darke county, that is owned by Mr. Allen Geer. Of recent years the doctrine of the 'little farm well tilled' has been widely preached but rarely practiced. This practical farm which is worked by Mr. Geer is one of the few exceptions where the possibility has been matured into a profitable actuality by the intensive pursuit of modern methods and up-to-date management. The farm is divided into five-acre plots on which a four-year rotation is followed: clover, corn, tobacco and wheat constituting the crops that are raised. The land is of a rolling nature, while the soil is a rich, black loam which is never surfeited with water, due to six hundred and fifty rods of tile laid at a maximum depth of thirty inches, which furnish adequate means for thorough underdrainage.

"In the five years which he has owned his twenty-five-acre farm, he has distributed five thousand loads of manure over the fields. A large portion of this fertilizer he secured in the neighboring town for the hauling of it, while the rest of the manure cost him from ten to fifteen cents a load.

"To show that his efforts in replenishing the fertility of his soil have not been in vain, it is only necessary to mention that last year this progressive countryman harvested four hundred and fifty bushels of corn of fine quality from his five-acre cornfield, while for the past three years his wheat has never gone below thirty-nine bushels to the acre. His most profitable cash crop has been tobacco; his 1911 return from four and three-quarters acres amounted to $707.40. His tobacco usually averages around 1,350 pounds to the acre.

"And the best part of the proposition is that the Geer place is a regular Klondike nugget in its ability to draw money. During the last five years its owner, in addition to gaining an ample livelihood for himself and his family from the farm, has annually disposed of more than $900 worth of produce that was raised on this little tract."

The country is so flooded with spellbinders that it is difficult for the party committees to place them, and a good deal of bottled up oratory will never be uncorked. The bull moose state central committee found it necessary to guarantee local expenses in order to book the governor for next Thursday night. The average speaker for any party finds it difficult to obtain an audience, and the lack of enthusiasm is everywhere apparent.

One week from today will decide the destiny of the nation for the next four years. Whatever may be the result, everybody will breathe easier, for a campaign is always disturbing, and more or less bitterness is engendered. When politics descends to the level of personalities, all other lines are forgotten, and the contest just closing has been a personal contest. The sky will be just as clear November sixth, as it is today, and this country will continue to be the best place on earth to live, whoever may be president.

If Senator La Follette should lose the legislature he wouldn't have a leg to stand on. The Roosevelt stampede has demoralized his ranks, and as he never forgets or forgives a grievance, he will find it difficult to rally. The senator made a grave mistake by not coming out squarely for Taft and the national ticket.

You can't be a Roosevelt and La Follette shouter in the same breath, as both men have pronounced convictions, and the wires are badly crossed. The personal fight between these two great leaders will not stop with the campaign.

The committee of fifteen is quietly at work and something will be doing in the near future. There are some laws and ordinances which are a handicap to moral reform efforts and should be repealed.

If Governor McGovern's steeds were both traveling the same way his equestrian performance would not seem so daring. As it is he is having plenty of exercise without getting anywhere.

Must Be a Goal.
There can be no progress when there is no end in view.

KILL THIS AMENDMENT.

The one pernicious amendment which should be buried beyond resurrection this year will be known as Joint Resolution No. 48.

To amend Article XI of the Constitution by adding thereto a new Section to be known as Section 3a, relating to the acquisition of lands by the state or any of its cities for certain public purposes.

Whereas, At the biennial session of the legislature for the year 1909, an amendment to the Constitution was proposed and agreed to by a majority of the two Houses, which proposed amendment is as follows:

"Resolved by the Senate, the Assembly concurring, That Article XI of the Constitution be amended by adding a new section thereto, to be known as Section 3a to read:

Section 3a. The state or any of its cities may acquire by gift, purchase or condemnation lands for establishing, laying out, widening, enlarging, extending and maintaining memorial grounds, streets, squares, parkways, boulevards, parks, playgrounds, sites for public buildings, and reservations in and about and along and leading to any or all of the same; and after the establishment, layout, and completion of such improvements, may convey any such real estate thus acquired and not necessary for such improvements, with reservations concerning the future use and occupation of such real estate, so as to protect such public works and improvements, and their environs, and to preserve the view, appearance, light, air and usefulness of such public works; now therefore, be it Resolved by the Senate, the Assembly concurring, That the foregoing proposed amendment to the Constitution of the State of Wisconsin be, and the same is hereby agreed to by this Legislature.

ON THE SPUR OF THE MOMENT
By ROY K. MOULTON.

The Scientists.

The scientists, those good old souls, are worrying once more. They're making new discoveries of microbes by the score. They've lately been examining the thousand-dollar bills, which move around from hand to hand and rest in many tills. They say that all the bills of that denomination reek With deadly germs of which they are almost afraid to speak. They claim the man who handles one is mostly apt to die. And many millions may be killed, they tell us with a sigh.

The scientists have scared us stiff quite frequently of late. But this time they have got it wrong; we cannot help but state That most of us will never have the slightest fear or qualm. In spite of this discovery, we'll near-ly all stay calm. They've started some weird theories and pulled some funny stunts. But on this thousand dollar stuff, they've fallen down for once. Of course the bills may have the mikes exactly as they say. But they will never kill off any of our friends that way.

From the Hickeyville Clarion.
Renfrew Binks, our talented and versatile station agent at the railroad depot, said a lot of fellows got next to good tips on the stock market by taping the telegraph wires. Hank Tumms climbed a pole next day and tacked on a wire for an hour with his jackknife, but he didn't get no information. Hank says Ren is a liar.

Miss Amy Pringle has got a "Gates Ajar" from the bathhouse and expects to trim it up for a bunny in the near future.

Elmer Jones says he would like to own a good bathhouse, because a fellow could stay in it all the year around and keep nice and warm for nothing.

Since Doc Hanks has had the mumps his whiskers is too small and don't fit his face.

Hickeyville is going to have a new brick cold storage building and they will probably have to build it out of ice cream to make it cold enough.

T. Herbert Hovey says Polka dolls is all the go down to the city. By golly a fellow that has got the doxy or mensels must be right in style.

Miss Pansy Perkins wished a wart off her thumb by a gypsy fortune teller last week, but the fortune teller made a mistake and wished it on to the end of Pansy's nose. Old man Purdy says he guesses he will have a wart wished onto the end of his nose to keep his specs from slipping off.

News are quite scarce this week, as everybody in town has been waiting down at the railroad depot since last Monday morning to see the 8:17 train come in, which is some late at this writing.

Amber Hanks made a mistake the other day and filled the tank of his forty candle-power runabout with gin instead of gasoline, and the blamed thing wouldn't stay in the tank, but knocked the front porch off from Hilliker's general store and smashed four rods of the fence in front of the meeting house.

Hi-Bibbins has got a new invention, which is photographing him on sandwiches so it looks like a real article. He ought to make his fortune around the camp-meeting and county fairs.

Next to being night watchman in a casket factory, about the cheerfulest job I know of is being poet laureate for a tombstone works.

A Word About Bargains:

Don't believe all you see or hear about bargain prices. See the goods for yourself, and don't take anyone's word about their value. Some things are dear at any price. We believe our prices are the lowest that can be found anywhere for goods of the same quality. But don't believe it just because we say so. We may be prejudiced. We invite inspection and comparison and will be satisfied with your decision.

The difference between a legitimate bargain and the imitation is as radical as light and darkness, as vice and virtue. The one is a commercial benefaction; the other is the bane of commercial and sociological conditions.

EXPECT JURY WILL RETIRE TO DECIDE FINLEY CASE TODAY

Local Saloon-keeper Charged With Selling Liquor to Blind Boys, Under Age, on Trial in Municipal Court.

Evidence of an unusually interesting character was introduced in the case of the City versus Richard P. Finley, tried in the Municipal Court today, because of the circumstances that the two principal witnesses for the city, Philip Hudson and Joseph Grae-bner, were both blind boys, students at the State Institute for the Blind. The case was called at nine o'clock this morning, but it was 10:50 o'clock before the jury was sworn, some difficulty being experienced in obtaining jurymen who would pass examination.
When the examination was begun five venemen were in the box, and of these two were dismissed. An intermission was then called while five more venemen were drawn.

The jurors sworn were S. G. Lawson, Oscar W. Pease, George Woodruff, Andrew Gessner, F. C. Bradley and C. C. Carr. City Attorney F.
C. Dougherty introduced the case to the jury, after which the first witness for the city, Superintendent J. C.
Hooper of the State Institute for the Blind was called to the stand. On motion of the attorneys for the defendant, M. O. Mount, and O. B.
Oestreich, witnesses were excluded from the courtroom except while testifying or after a recess.

Mr. Hooper testified that he was the complainant in the case before the court. In answer to the question of counsel he said that Joseph Graebner, whose home is at Hollandale, is totally blind, but that Philip Hudson, whose home is at Lake Geneva was able to read almost well enough to read ordinary print. On September 14 he saw the boys coming up the alley to the door of the post-office walking unsteadily and showing evident signs of intoxication. He followed them as far as the Grand Hotel where they stopped to talk to some other boys. They had cigarettes and when Graebner him one, he took them all away. He noticed the odor of beer on their breaths.

Hudson followed Mr. Hooper to the stand. He gave his age as six years, but did not remember the exact day
he had been down town with Graebner, but said that it was the first Saturday after school opened, which is the date in question. They visited a ten-cent store on South Main street, a candy kitchen, a tailor shop, barber shop, and then went to a saloon which he described as the second one on South River street south of the post-office alley. It had a white front.

There were there between 10:00 and 10:30 o'clock; he thought not longer than twenty-five minutes. They left through the back door and went up the alley to Franklin street.
Each of them ordered and drank
two glasses of beer, and one of ginger ale, Hudson paying for all the drinks. After meeting Mr. Hooper near the Grand hotel, he was home arriving in time for dinner.
He came down to dinner but also none as he felt sick. Hudson admitted on question, that he was intoxicated to some extent.

The witness was asked to describe further the saloon that he entered. He said that the sidewalk outside sloped to the inside; at the right hand side of the door as entered. The bar is on the south side and there were card tables in the room. He did not notice how many there were. Two men were behind the bar when he was there. He did not see Finley. They went out through two swinging screen doors and another door that opened into the alley. There was but one other customer in the room besides himself and Graebner, a man seated in a chair at one of the tables.

After Hudson had been examined the court adjourned until 1:30 o'clock when Joseph Graebner was called to the stand. His testimony was corroborative of that of Hudson, though being totally blind, he could not verify his statements in the same manner. He did not think that the drinks he had intoxicated him but said that he felt tired and drowsy after taking them. He was positive that the saloon in which he had them was on South River street and described its exact location as did Hudson. He could hear that there was one man behind the bar, but said that there might have been more. He heard no other customers in the room. This he said was a large one, because he could tell the size from the echo of foot-falls on the floor. He had been at the institute for the Blind ever since he was eight years of age and showed that he was well acquainted with the streets between downtown and the institute and south of Milwaukee street.

At the invitation of the counsel for the defense Hudson was asked to pick out if he could the two bartenders employed in the Finley saloon. After scanning the room he stated that the man who served the drinks was not in the room. Graebner said the only way he could identify the bartender would be hearing his voice under the same conditions he had heard it before.

The request of City Attorney Dougherty that the jury be taken to examine the premises in question was denied by the court, the judge stating that such permission is granted only before evidence has been taken concerning the premises.

The defense will probably call Mr.
Finley and his bartenders to the stand and it will probably be late in the afternoon before the case is given to the jury to decide.

ber 30. T. P. Burns.

ELOPING SISTER IS STOPPED--NOT WIFE

Frank Novack Makes Hurred Trip
To Beloit To Prevent Marriage Of Eloping Couple.

Following the publication of a story which was wrong in essential details in several papers of the county, Frank Novack, a harness-maker of this city, makes an explanation of the true facts of the case.
Mr. Novack made a hurried trip to Beloit Friday evening last when he learned that his sister, Miss Margaret Novack, had eloped with Joseph Wanderly. After a frantic search in which Judge Clark and half the Beloit police force were enlisted, Novack found his erring sister and brought her back to Janesville. Wanderly also came back with Novack and the girl, after he had promised never to repeat such a performance.

The story as published was to the effect that Novack was in search of his eloping wife.

GOES TO BEAVER DAM TO ANSWER CHARGES

Lawrence Griffen Of This City Accused of Joy Riding and Wrecking Auto In That City.

Joy riding in an automobile not his own, that culminated in a smashup and the wrecking of the machine, is the charge that must be faced by Lawrence Griffen, a Janesville young man, who was placed under arrest in this city last night. The alleged offense is said to have been committed in Beaver Dam during the annual county fair about three weeks ago.
Deputy Sheriff Martin of that city notified the Janesville police to watch for Griffen and place him under arrest as soon as he put in an appearance. These directions were carried out at about 10:30 o'clock last night. Griffen was located in a saloon on West Milwaukee street. Patrolman Sam Brown entered through the front door and Patrolman Tom Morrissey from the rear, and Griffen was unable to make his escape if he wanted to. Deputy Sheriff Martin was promptly notified and is expected to arrive here this afternoon to take him to Beaver Dam. Griffen is about twenty-two years old and has served as a vocal soloist in moving picture theatres about the country.

WHEN A LAXATIVE IS NEEDED "CASCARETS,"

Salts, Calomel and Cathartic Pills Are Violent—They Act on Bowels As Pepper Acts in Nostrils.

Take a Cascaret tonight and thoroughly cleanse your liver, stomach and bowels, and you will surely feel great by morning. You men and women who have headache, coated tongue, can't sleep, are bilious, nervous and upset, bothered with a sick, gassy, disordered stomach, or have backache and feel all worn out.

Are you keeping your bowels clean with Cascarets—or merely forcing a passageway every few days with salts, cathartic pills or castor oil? This is important.

Cascarets immediately cleanse and regulate the stomach, fermenting the sour, undigested and fermenting food and fumes, take the excess bile from the liver and carry off the constipated waste matter and poison from the intestines and bowels.

Remember, a Cascaret tonight will straighten out by morning. A 10-cent box from your druggist means healthy bowel action; a clear head and cheerfulness for months. Don't forget the children.

BACKACHE IS A DANGER SIGNAL

Kidney Troubles, Bladder Disorders, Rheumatism, and Serious Diseases Follow.

There are other symptoms, such as pains in the region of the kidneys, nervousness, dizziness, tired and worn-out feeling, weak bladder, painful, scaldy, or urinary troubles, which are just as dangerous, for the slightest kidney derangement if neglected may develop into the deadly Bright's Disease, Dropsy, or Diabetes.

It is not only dangerous, but needless, for you to suffer, and endure the tortures of these troubles, for the new discovery, Croxone, quickly and surely ends all such misery.

There is no more effective remedy known for the permanent cure of all forms of kidney, bladder trouble, and rheumatism, than this new scientific preparation, because it removes the cause. It soaks right into the kidneys, through the walls and linings, cleans out the clogged-up pores, neutralizes and dissolves the poisonous uric acid and waste matter, that lodge in the joints and muscles, and cause those terrible rheumatic pains, and makes the kidneys filter the poison from the blood and drives it out of the system.

Three doses of Croxone a day, for a few days is often all that is ever needed to cure the worst backache or overcome disagreeable urinary disorders, and you can take it with the utmost confidence that nothing on earth will so quickly cure the worst case of kidney, bladder trouble, or rheumatism.

You will find Croxone different from all other remedies. There is nothing else like it. It is so prepared that it is practically impossible to take it into the human system without results. An original package costs but a trifle at any first class drug store. All druggists are authorized to personally return the purchase price if Croxone should fail in a single case.

EXCESSIVE DEMANDS ON HIGHWAY FUNDS

Some Townships in State Will Receive One-fifth of Amount Asked for From State Appropriation.

Full reports have been received by the Wisconsin Highway commission of the money voted for state aid road and bridge construction in 1913. There are 1195 towns in Wisconsin, of which $65 voted for state aid road construction on 1267 different pieces of road, asking for state aid to the total amount of $757,573. Two hundred and five towns voted for the construction of 337 bridges, a total amount of $107,754, which calls for $53,877 state aid. In all, 883 different towns in 48 counties voted for state aid a total amount of $865,027, calling for the sum of $432,514 in state aid.

These figures show a very large increase in the number of towns voting and amounts voted, over last year. Last year 511 towns voted, a total of $422,500 for roads, and 135 towns voted $55,100 for bridges, in all 522 towns in 65 counties calling for $452,800 state aid in 1912.

The state highway fund for 1913 work is $350,000, to which is added in accordance with law, one quarter of the net proceeds from the automobile license of $5 per car, amounting to about $28,000. This total sum of $378,000 is $432,514 less than the full amount of state aid requested. Some few counties will get the full state aid requested as the votes of the towns were light, but about 60 of the counties will get less than they asked for, many of them getting less than one-fifth of the amount requested.

It is hoped that some method will be devised whereby the state may give each town what it expected to receive when it made its appropriation. The growth of the movement for better roads in Wisconsin has been so rapid that legislation has not kept pace with it. In 1907, permanent road construction was practically nothing; in 1913, if the state could pay its full share, it would be fully $2,542,000. There has been in the United States a movement for better roads, so state-wide or so generally popular and the results so far secured under the state aid road law promise well for the future development of the roads of Wisconsin.

WORE STOLEN COAT; PLEADS NOT GUILTY

Henry Finn Protests Innocence in Face of Incriminating Circumstances—Trial to be on Monday.

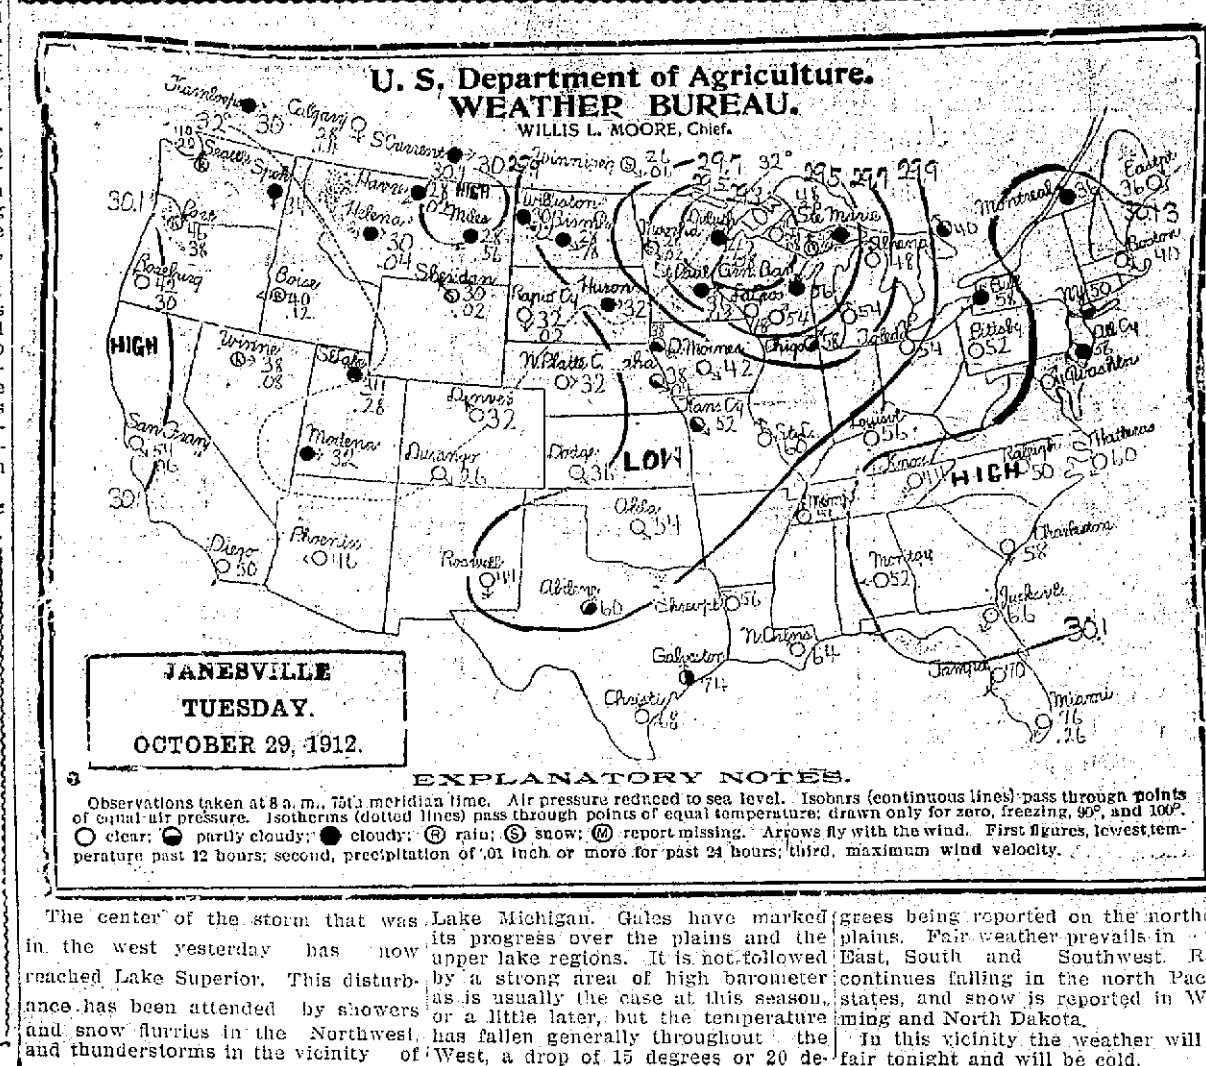

Although found wearing an overcoat stolen from the wagon of J. O. Conroy, a La Prairie farmer, in this city last Saturday, Henry Finn, charged with the theft, plead "not guilty" when arraigned before Judge Pfister in the municipal court this morning. Finn was found in the Karsberg saloon by Patrolman Patrick Manning yesterday afternoon and an examination made at the police station soon satisfied the officers that the coat wore was the one stolen. A. C. Conroy came to the police station last evening, identified and claimed the coat. Finn claimed that he had sold other coats at the hand second-hand store on North Main street and when an insurance salesman complained to the police that his overcoat had been stolen at Clinton Patrolman Sam Brown went to the store to make an investigation. He found none answering the description of the missing garment, but did find one pawned by Finn some time ago for 20 cents. Finn's trial was set for ten o'clock Monday morning and in default of bail he was sent to jail until that time.

R. P. STARR.

Chairman Republican County Committee.

Mr. Starr however, fails to state that in order to bring the Governor here, it was necessary for the state central committee to guarantee the expenses as the local republicans had refused to contribute for the necessary expenses, of hiring the opera house and other incidentals. The first formal announcement that McGovern would be here came to the Gazette through the medium of one of the Bull Moose leaders and before Mr. Starr knew for certain that the arrangements had been completed. It is safe to say that while the Governor does not come under the auspices of the Roosevelt supporters they were able to bring pressure to bear on the state central committee, through Milwaukee men, to secure the address.

As Governor of the state Mr. McGovern will doubtless be given a most gracious reception and a good sized audience will doubtless attend his address which it is understood will be on state issues only. Just who will introduce him has not yet been decided, but the address will be at the Myers Theatre at eight o'clock Thursday evening.

W. C. T. U. ANNOUNCES AN ESSAY CONTEST

Competition for School Children on Topic, "Why I Should Abstain From the Use of Narcotics."

Hattie E. West, superintendent of the scientific temperance instruction of the Rock county W. C. T. U., announces a prize essay contest for the school children of the county which will be conducted by the county union. Two prizes of $5 and $3 each will be awarded high school students writing the best composition on the topic, "Why I Should Abstain from the Use of Narcotics." Prizes of $3 and $2 will be offered grade school pupils for essays on the same subject.

The following are the rules governing the contest:

Essays must bear the name and address of the writer and be endorsed by parent or teacher who must be convinced that the essay is the work and thought of the student. This shall not be considered a limit, the range of reading necessary to bring out the desired reasons for abstinence. Permission is also given to quote statistics.

Essays written by high school competitors must contain 1000 words and not more than 15,000; those by the grades 1000 words as the maximum and 500 as the minimum.

Prizes will not be awarded unless at least three schools enter the contest.

Essays must be sent to Mrs. A. H. West, Milton Junction, not later than June 1913. Awards will be made on neatness and appearance of manuscript, sentence, construction and literary merit.

TWENTY-FOUR THOUSAND BALLOTS FOR ROCK COUNTY.

Largest Number of Official Ballots Will Go to Third Ward of City of Janesville.

Twenty-four thousand official ballots will be required for Rock county according to the count as made by the county clerk and others have been issued to the printers of the ballots to that effect.

The exact number of ballots which will be sent to the various precincts has also been ascertained. The third ward of the city of Janesville will receive the largest number or 1,260 ballots, 1,124 ballots go to the fourth ward of Beloit and about the same number to the fourth ward of Janesville. The smallest number of ballots will go to Oronville with a total of 212. The town of Avon will receive the next smallest number of ballots 398.

MILTON JUNCTION

Milton Junction, Oct. 29.—Archie Mills is up from Rockford for a few days.

Miss Bessie Richmond is a guest of her aunt, Mrs. James Stockman.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Green were Sunday guests of friends at Madison.

Miss Edna Sykes was here from Janesville on Monday.

Miss Edna Jewett is visiting friends and relatives in Walworth.

A. H. Meyer was here to spend Sunday with Mrs. Meyer, who is visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. H. B. Root.

George W. Mills of Illinois is visiting his mother, Mrs. J. S. Mills.

Heart to Heart Talks.

By EDWIN A. NYE.

OUT OF THE WAY.

It is 8:30 a. m. The street cars are lined up for a block. The clerks have come down earlier. These cars are filled with the bosses, heads of departments, professional men. Restless and fuming, a broker cries out, "What's the matter ahead?"

"Coal wagon down!"

"A coal wagon! Can't the company keep these people off the track? Must a man miss an important engagement because of these drivers?"

The coal hauler, in order to relieve his rather weak team, had turned into the car tracks. Warned by the clanging bell he started off. The strain broke an axle and the wheel smashed down. Traffic was delayed ten minutes.

That was all, except that the driver would lose two days' work and $5. A bagatelle? Let's see.

The loss to the company, incorporated at $5,000,000, is a few nickels. But the driver's loss?

Capitalize his entire outfit at $150. Wagon, horses and harness are old. How much has he lost?

One-tenth of his capital.

A railroad company capitalized at $150,000,000 has a disastrous wreck—loss $100,000. The papers make much of it. Well, the company loses one fifteen-hundredth of its capital.

The railroad company may cut a small fraction of the dividends at the end of the year or make up the loss in some other way, but the coal hauler must make up for the loss of the one-thirtieth part of his capital stock by pinching economy.

Go to his home.

The wreck of the wagon is to the family a real calamity. It means dinners without meat. It may mean a failure to pay the rent. And in the end some bloodsucker may get a mortgage on team and wagon.

Ask the woman.

Little John's coat is getting too worn and patched for school. His sister must needs a pair of new shoes. Her old shawl is good enough for "her," but father suffers in the bleak winds because his underclothing has grown thin.

Aye, drag the old trap off the track! We must get down to business.

And, alas for Christian charity under the sun, no one of those prosperous people who passed the sooty faced driver as he stood by the side of his battered wreck had perhaps a glimmer of thought or pity for his tremendous loss.

We must get down to business.

Out of the way!

TO DISCUSS PLANS FOR A CHAUTAUQUA

Revival of Meetings in Janesville Will be Considered at Meeting of Business Men.

A revival of the chautauqua meetings held in Janesville several years ago is being discussed among the business men of the city as a possibility for the coming summer, and a meeting of a committee of business men to consider the subject with the representative of a chautauqua association may be held on Wednesday and Thursday of this week. Letters and literature with regard to the attraction offered have been received from the chautauqua association, and it is thought that everything is favorable for holding a chautauqua. Several years ago the first chautauqua was held in Janesville, and in point of attendance and the attractions offered was a great success. The grounds used at that time proved most attractive and especially well adapted to the purpose. It is thought that a chautauqua this coming summer could be made a greater success than the previous entertainments of this sort.

The list of attractions offered by the chautauqua association includes some of the best talent in the country and a sufficient variety to make the chautauqua as interesting as possible. Among the names of speakers are many whose appearance in this city previously has made them popular with local audiences.

VOICE OF THE PEOPLE.

Janesville Gazette:
I noticed in your paper of Oct. 25th, that our city council was considering repairing or building a new bridge across the river at Milwaukee street, and they had Mr. Welch here to inspect the old bridge. Not being satisfied with Mr. Welch's judgment they sent for the Rockford engineer, Mr. Main, and he pronounced it all right in his judgment as far as the piles were concerned. I would like to know what he knows about piles any more than our city engineer who has never had any experience in that work and very little, I should judge in surveying before he came to Janesville. The paper stated that Mr. Main had his experience on the Rockford and Janesville interurban line. I would like to ask the city councilmen where they got that information as I know Mr. Main had nothing to do with the work. Mr. H. H. Jackson was chief engineer and Mr. Edward Stowal assistant engineer, in charge of the location and building of the road. Mr. Main had nothing to do with the work on the line, as I know that J. W. Peters drove all the piles and built all the culverts and bridges between here and Rockford. I will venture to say there is not another man in Southern Wisconsin who has pulled out as many piles and driven as many new ones as J. W. Peters. I think the honor should go where honor is due. Mr. John Welch is a stone cutter and had charge of the mason work for many years on the C. & N. W. railroad and had nothing to do with pile driving.

Why should our city fathers send out of town to get some inexperienced man when he have a man right in our own city that knows more about bridge work than you can send out and get anywhere? It would not cost the city as much as it does now when they get men who do not know any more about bridge work than the city councilmen themselves, and that is not much.

CATHOLIC BAZAAR IS A BIG SUCCESS

Milton Junction Church Realizes $800 From Annual Sale—Janesville Residents Give Aid.

(SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.)
Milton Junction, Oct. 29.—The eighth annual bazaar and supper of St. Mary's Catholic church of Milton Junction, closed very successfully Wednesday evening last.

On Tuesday evening a fine musical program was given by a number of Janesville young people. The program consisted of the following numbers:

Violin Solo Miss Ethel Crowley
Accompanist Miss Kathryn Crowley
Vocal Solo Edward Leary
Vocal Solo With Violin Obligato.

..... Miss Genivieve McGinnity
Hon. Charles Kading of Watertown, candidate for state's attorney delivered a very eloquent address.

Wednesday evening's chief attraction was a very delicious supper at which there were over 500 people. It was pronounced by many the best supper ever given by the ladies of the parish.

The hall was prettily decorated with three booths, the most attractive of which was the Gold Dust Booth donated by Mr. Bert Button. The Candy Booth showed spring in her delicate shadings. The Domestic Booth designated the warmth and vivid coloring of autumn, it being decorated with autumn leaves.

A number of very liberal donations were made by local and Janesville business men showing the high esteem in which the local pastor Rev. J. J. McGinnity is held by all societies and in both his home town and the city of Janesville.

At the conclusion of the bazaar, Father McGinnity in a few appropriate words thanked his Catholic and non-Catholic friends for their generosity and co-operation which had resulted in the most successful bazaar held, far eclipsing any of the similar events of former years.

Through the untiring efforts of all $802.35 were realized.

This is the largest amount ever realized by such an event in this town and all concerned are to be congratulated upon the success of the affair.

PLYMOUTH PASTOR WILL GIVE LECTURE FRIDAY

The Rev. W. C. Sainsbury Will Talk on Life in London to His Plymouth Congregation.

(SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.)
Plymouth, Oct. 29.—The Rev. W. C. Sainsbury has been invited by his Plymouth congregation to deliver his new lecture on life in London, entitled the "Hub of the World," on Friday evening, Nov. 1st, at the Plymouth M. E. church. This lecture was recently presented in Orfordville and gained universal praise. Mr. Sainsbury introduces his audience to a phase of life and class of people in the metropolis which a visitor to that great city would scarcely be able to discover except by an extended stay. It is a lecture that deals more with the people of London than the place itself, and it is brim full of interest and vigor.

At the conclusion of the lecture a chicken pie supper will be reserved. The time for commencing is 8 P. M.

MILTON

REGULAR MEETINGS OF LITERARY CLUBS

Boys' Societies at High School Enjoy
Good Programs at Sessions Last Night.

Another meeting of almost perfect order was the feature of the Forum Literary Society last night. Without the aid of a faculty critic, the members are making this year a successful one so far. The new officers treat will undoubtedly be on next Monday night, following the regular meeting. Roll call last night was answered with a short humorous anecdote, which proved interesting causing laughter continuously.

Much business was transacted. The treasury is in good condition and from what can be remembered from other years past, the society is enjoying the most successful period of its history.

After the business, a short program was rendered. Carl Schoof spoke of "Roads Worth $35,000,000 a Year."

Roy Cannon outlined his past summer canoe trip down the Mississippi to Moline, Ill., giving a very interesting talk on camp life. The debate was the best given this year, and Judd and Mount won a 2 to 1 decision over Cummings and Ferguson on the question. Resolved, that as society is constituted at present, the liquor saloon has desirable social functions.

The last number, "Harvesting Ice by Electric Power" was presented by a new member, Joseph Brundage.

Rusk Lyceum.
Two new members were taken into the Rusk Society last night, they being George Razook and Malcolm Douglas. Several other names were voted upon, and the following students were elected into the society: Frank Blodgett, Louis Hayes, Leland Hyzer, and Sherwood Sheldon. They will be sworn in next Monday. Before this business was transacted, the program was given. Harold Laughlin spoke on "The African Ant," which was a peculiar and interesting topic. The debate was, Resolved, That the United States should continue Chinese Immigration. Royden Krotz on the affirmative won the decision over the negative upheld by Victor Hemming.

OBITUARY.
Irene Vivian Fiese.

Irene Vivian, infant daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Fiese, passed away at 2:15 o'clock Sunday afternoon, the cause of death being convulsions. The funeral was held from the home, 313 Linden avenue, at 2:30 o'clock Monday afternoon. Burial was made in Oak Hill cemetery.

Roy Mead.
Those who acted as pall-bearers at the funeral of Roy Mead, held yesterday afternoon, were Albert Hillmeyer, Albert Mahoney, M. J. McCarthy, Elmer Duxstad, John W. Higgins, and T. Harkner. Interment was made in Oak Hill cemetery.

BIRTHDAY PARTY IS GIVEN FOR MRS. MARY BANCROFT.

Mrs. Henry Briggs Entertained About Twenty Ladies Saturday Afternoon in Honor of Her Mother.

her home on Logan street, Saturday afternoon in honor of her mother, Mrs. Mary Bancroft, it being her eighty-fifth birthday. About twenty ladies were present. Refreshments were served by Mrs. Briggs' nieces, the Misses Stella and Florence Bancroft, and Nettie and Blanche Thomson. Mrs. Bancroft is enjoying the best of health and has as a reminder of the occasion many pretty gifts.

ORFORDVILLE

Orfordville, Oct. 29.—A Halloween social in connection with the Young People's Fellowship Class will be held at the M. E. church on Thursday evening at eight o'clock. All day evening will be observed, including a Witch's Cave. Friends are invited to attend in costume, masked if possible, and everybody who can is asked to furnish a jack-o'-lantern. Scotland is the home of Halloween and since the pastor and his wife spent several years there, the latter being a native, it is quite possible that several ceremonies peculiar to Scotland will be introduced. Everybody is invited. Refreshments will be served and the charge will be the usual sum of ten cents.

STATE PRESS AND POLITICS.

The Income Tax.

Racine Journal News: The governor defends the income tax. As a principle maybe, but as a fact as to our income tax law, it is burdened with perplexities, is too inquisitorial, exemptions too low, and the law as tortuous as other state reform legislation. The exemptions should not be less than $2,000. An income tax should not tax wages and ordinary salaries, but incomes derived from investments or salaries in excess of the common, this also meaning profits exceeding $2,000. The governor could handle Judge Karel in this sort of proposition with success.

Left in the Dark.
Milwaukee Free Press: Mr. La Follette is praising Bryan and denouncing Karel. Mr. Bryan is praising La Follette and commending Karel. Thus again the people's champions leave in doubt and darkness that sort of a voter who has been accustomed blindly to follow his so-called progressive leader. It is just as well. The voter should have some other reason for his ballot than the dictum of leaders who assume for themselves all the political virtues, and it appears, are in such disagreement among themselves.

The Prime Comedian.
Fond du Lac Reporter: The great comedy in republican and bull moose circles is being staged with a master hand by Francis E. McGovern, whose gubernatorial aspirations would make him lead every known political party in existence if he had the chance. The comedy, however, is bound to be converted into a tragedy on November 5 when the death blow to the McGovern hopes will be delivered by the voters of Wisconsin.

What It May Indicate.
Eau Claire Leader: The people are not getting excited over politics. Doesn't this mean that they are satisfied with President Taft and rather tired at his over-zealous and noisy assailants?

Ample Testimony of Relief
from Rheumatism, Sciatica and Neuritis

Testimonials are usually discounted, but your druggist will show you proof backed by affidavit that Nurple is promptly relieving these diseases in all sections of the country.

Nurple is a specialist's prescription, entirely free from opiates and narcotics—highly effective antidote for the uric acid poison which causes all rheumatic diseases.

Dear Sir:
"During the past two years," writes one correspondent, "I have been treated by several doctors and have taken baths at Marlborough, Mineral Wells and Hot Springs, Ark., but derived very little benefit."

My wife happened to see an ad. about Nurple in the Boston Post. She sent $7 for a box for me to try. I had lost all faith in any kind of medicine. The first box you sent was lost in transit, but I received another box on Wednesday last. I took one powder after dinner and one after supper. The results were marvellous. My wife, children and neighbors were surprised to see the change. I feel much relieved—am able to walk better than I have for two years. Enclosed, please find $2 for which please send me a $2 box by return mail. I wish to get it as quickly as possible.

Magistral Chemical Co., Rutherford Bldg., N. Y. Trade your miserable aches and pains so us for $1 a box and add your praise in the post. For sale by J. P. BAKER & SON, and all other leading druggists.

DINNER STORIES

"So you were bound and gagged by bandits while in Italy, were you?" asked a sarcastic man of a friend who had traveled. "Regular comic opera bandits, eh?"

"No, said the other, 'there was nothing of the comic opera style about them. The gags they used were all new.'"

"I wouldn't drink out of that cup," said little Willie to the well dressed young visitor; "that's Lizzie's cup, and she's very particular who drinks out of it."

"Ah," said the young man as he drained the cup dry, "I feel honored to drink out of Lizzie's cup. Lizzie is your youngest sister, isn't she?"

"Not much," Lizzie is my dog."

During a discussion of the fitness of things, in general some one asked: "If a young man takes his best girl to the grand opera, spends a ten dollar note on a supper after the performance, and then takes her home in a taxicab, should he kiss her goodnight?"

An old bachelor who was present growled:

"I don't think she ought to expect it. Seems to me he has done enough for her."

"You must have had a terrible experience, with no food and mosquitoes swarming around you," said a friend to the shipwrecked mariner, who had been cast away upon a tropical island.

"You just bet I had a terrible experience," he acknowledged. "My experience was worse than that of the man who wrote 'Water, water everywhere, but not a drink of water.' With me it as bites, bites everywhere, but not a bite to eat."

For three solid hours the captain had been lecturing his men on "the duties of a soldier," and he thought it was time to see how much they had understood of his discourse. Casting his eyes around the room his fixed on Private Murphy as his first victim.

"Private Murphy," he asked, "why should a soldier be ready to die for his country?"

Private Murphy scratched his head for a moment, and then a smile of enlightenment crossed his face.

"Sure, captain," he said pleasantly, "you're quite right. Why should he?"

A Test of Shakespeare.
A friend of father's told me that is the only test to apply in considering which parts of the doubtful plays are genuine.

"If you want to read it, it's Shakespeare, and if you don't, it isn't."—The Spectator.

Mr. Christ Haegle, 1633 Centre St., Racine, states: "For a number of years I had kidney trouble with a severe pain across my back which made me miserable. I took Foley Kidney Pills and in a few days the pain left my back, and I felt great relief for this pain had troubled me for years, and the relief was prompt." Badger Drug Co.

CLINTON JOY-RIDERS
COME TO GRIEF HERE

Benjamin Howard and Woman Giving Name of Jenitta Town Arrested—Rig Taken From Them.
Benjamin Howard and a woman giving her name as Jenitta Town indulged in an old-fashioned horse and buggy joy ride to Janesville from Clinton last night. They left Clinton in high spirits, induced by others of the ardent variety. When they reached South Janesville they passed for reinforcements and then came to this city for a grand finale. They got it. The horse was put up at a livery on North Bluff street. Attendees at the livery noticed the condition of the couple and also that the horse had been abused and notified the Clinton livery from which the rig had been engaged. They were instructed not to let Howard and his companion take the horse from the barn. When they returned for the rig later in the evening, they were the worse for wear and disposed to be quarrelsome so the police were called in. Officer Sam Brown placed the couple under arrest and they were arraigned in the municipal court this morning on a charge of drunkenness. Both pleaded guilty. Howard was able to pay his fine of $4 and costs but his companion was not, and was sent to jail for eight days. Jenitta Town was taken with hysteria after her arrest and a physician had to be called in. She claims Edgerton as her home. The horse and carriage were taken back to Clinton today.

Sam Cooley, charged with drunkenness, was sentenced to twelve days in jail.

BRIEF LOCAL NEWS.

Brok Arm in Fall: James Granger, a son of J. A. Granger, residing on Milton avenue, broke his arm last evening as the result of falling off a load of hay. He was removed to his home where Dr. W. A. Munn reduced the fracture.

Expense Accounts: Candidates for county offices and the local party committees will file their final expense accounts before election at the office of the county clerk on Saturday of this week.

To Use Graphite Supply. A company has been formed to exploit the graphite deposits of Bavaria, which, with those of Ceylon, are said to be the only ones in the world yielding graphite suitable for refractory crucibles.

Funeral services for Milo Curtis were held at 2:30 o'clock this afternoon at the home on South High street. The Rev. Dr. Beaton of the Congregational church officiated. The services at the grave were conducted by the Masonic order, to which he belonged. Many friends of the deceased and his family were present at the funeral.

President Taft Went to New York This Morning [BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.] Washington, Oct. 29.—President Taft left for New York at 12:30 on the Pennsylvania railroad to attend a republican campaign conference and see the launching of the new dreadnaught New York. He is expected to return on Thursday to Washington.

Under such circumstances I am sure you can appreciate, my dear Mr. Ceter, how pleased I am to learn of the splendid work you are doing. You probably saw the republican estimate of the vote in New York. You may accept it as trustworthy. The great reserve force of plain, practical common sense of the American people is asserting itself and that means victory for the republican ticket on November 5th.

Sincerely yours, (Signed) WM. H. TAFT.

COMPLETED WORK ON THE BUDGET TODAY

Estimates of Expenses of City Government for Coming Year Discussed at Council Meeting Today.
Work on the yearly budget for the running expenses of the city government, it was expected, would be completed, and discussion of the amount taken up at the meeting of the council this afternoon at the city hall. Other work that came up at the meeting was the report of the board of public works on the amount of the levy required for sewerage purposes in Sewerage Dist. No. 16. In addition to the special assessment for that purpose, it was set forth in the report that an additional $560 would be needed. Application to have the license of William Knipp for the sale of liquors at 413 West Milwaukee street revoked, was filed by Chief of Police Appleby and a summons was issued by the council on that petition for him to show cause why the license should not be revoked.

Recommendation was made by Chief of the Fire Department Klein that permission be refused W. T. Sherer to erect the building on West Milwaukee street, the reason given by the chief being that the plans for the structure called for walls of only nine inches in thickness, whereas the law requires them to be twelve inches in thickness. The Wisconsin Carriage company made application to be allowed to sink gasoline and oil supply tanks on Locust street across from the factory. John Benson was appointed special policeman, his term to expire January 12, 1913.

WOMAN'S PAGE

The Evening Chit-Chat

BY RUTH CAMERON

A WORD TO FATHERS AND MOTHERS

"IT IS true that I am an alien. But my son—my son is Themistocles."—Euterpe.

A mother came to me the other day complaining about her eighteen year old daughter.

It seems that when the mother was a little girl she loved books and study and dreamed as her most precious dream that some day she would go to college. Some day never came. Instead she had to give up even finishing her high school course. It was a very bitter disappointment and naturally made her prize education even more highly, as we always do the good things we miss.

And so it was that when this woman went into a home of her own and one day they laid her baby girl in her arms, her first thought was, "she shall have the finest education in the land." And so the mother began to dream her dream of college all over again, for this precious new incarnation of herself.

Of course you know the rest. After eighteen years of saving and planning and dreaming on the mother's part, the girl does not want to go to college. To her it is unjust and unreasonable that her mother should insist on tying her down to four more years of the study she hates. To the mother it is the most bitter trial of her life, she sees her daughter throwing away what to her is an unspeakable precious opportunity, and she endures the disappointment of her dreams, a second time.

Only those who have had some such experience in their lives can know how much tragedy is wrapped up in that simple story.

The extent to which fathers and mothers enter into their children's lives is both beautiful and terrible.

It is truly wonderful to see how much personal pride, how much renewed ambition they feel in these reincarnations of themselves.

There is a woman who lives near me whose little daughter has a very fine musical talent. I enjoy hearing the little girl play, but I enjoy even more watching the mother's face fairly glow with happiness as she sits and rocks and listens. The mother has had many losses and disappointments. She was bred to a life of culture, luxury and ease. She is living a painfully narrow and toilsome existence. And yet, as she sits there rocking and listening to the second generation fulfilling her own dreams of musical accomplishment, she looks perfectly happy. I would give much to be able to paint her portrait then.

Young people, you cannot realize too keenly how much it means to the older folks to have you fulfill their dreams.

But you older folks, you also cannot realize too well that young people have their own lives to live. They are a part of you, you say. Ah yes, but remember that they are partly—and the bigger part, themselves.

Grant that they may be willing and able to fulfill those unfulfilled dreams and ambitions of yours.

Grant also that you may have forbearance and patience and understanding when that is not possible.

HEART and HOME PROBLEMS

BY MRS. ELIZABETH THOMPSON

Dear Mrs. Thompson—(1) Is it very wrong for a young lady keeping house for her parents, to elope if she loves the man devotedly? (2) Do elopements turn out happily? (3) What is the best way to manage a strong-minded man? (4) Is it unkindly to propose to a man in leap year? (5) Is a girl of 13 too awfully young to be married, especially if they are deeply in love? VIOLET EYES.

(1) If a girl is 21 or more and possesses good common sense; if the man is respectable and able to support a wife; if the parents are unreasonable in their objections; if the young people really love each other—then they may marry without their parents' consent. But they should not elope. They should have a little wedding at a friend's house or in the minister's study, and at least invite their parents to attend.

(2) Not when the elopers are young and foolish. (3) Be very lovable, tactful and patient and let him think he is doing it all. (4) Very. Leap year is only a joke. (5) Yes, indeed, my dear. A girl of 13 is not physically developed enough to be a wife, to say nothing of her lack of mental and spiritual development.

Dear Mrs. Thompson—I am a girl of 13, and have under my eye a picture which makes me look old. What is a sure remedy? ANXIOUS.

I am afraid this is a case for the doctor. Better consult a reliable one at once.

Dear Mrs. Thompson—I have been going to dances. Some boys took me home. They didn't respect me the least bit, asked me to kiss them goodnight and tried to fool around. They told me kissing is no sin. I lost quite a few friends because they say I think too much of myself. Shall I get over my quiteness or shall I stay the way I am? BEATRICE.

Dear little girl, don't let anything change you. The boys you have lost only wanted to gratify their vanity by adding you to their conquests. No girl can think too highly of herself, and you may be sure every man will hold her at her own valuation, whether it is high or low. The man who really wants to marry you will not hold you cheap.

Dear Mrs. Thompson—Can you give me a harmless remedy for a greasy, shiny complexion and open pores? ELSIE.

Pat a little pure alcohol on your face several times a day.

Dear Mrs. Thompson—(1) When keeping company with a young man, is it proper to visit at his home as a guest of his sisters? (2) Is it proper for an aunt to "butt in" when a girl of 17 goes with a fellow and has her parents to guide her?

ANXIOUS RAINBOW.

(1) Yes. (2) Aunt should mind her own business.

Dear Mrs. Thompson—I met a young man about two months ago and have had several appointments with him. I kept my word always, but the last time it threatened rain and I did not go. He has not phoned to me since. He is going away in the near future for a year. I do not wish to lose his friendship. Would it be proper for me to call him up?

GLORIA.

Call him up before he goes and wish him a very successful and happy year. If he wishes to be friends with you, that will be enough of a starter for him.

Dear Mrs. Thompson—Which is better for a piano—to leave it open or keep it closed all the time? What Nellie Maxwell.

Make the Best of it.

Let's pretend that all's well with the world, though it is hard to accept some things we cannot account for.

CHATS WITH THINKING WOMEN

by Barbara Boyd

Christmas Presents and Vacations

AS THE boat steamed slowly through a winding channel that gave enchanting views of sparkling water and tree-covered shores, the Girl sat in a steamer chair and feverishly crocheted.

"Do look," exclaimed a fellow-passenger, "at that exquisite picture made by that little lighthouse and that bit of rocky island and the water and fir trees!"

The Girl scarcely glanced up. "Yes, it's pretty," she said. "But I want to get this bag done."

"What are you making?" asked the other.

"Christmas presents."

"Christmas presents!"

"Yes. And I want to get this finished before the boat gets into port. I always make my Christmas presents on my vacation."

"What do you take a vacation for?" asked the other.

The Girl looked somewhat blank for a minute, then went on with her crocheting. "Oh, well, you get the air," she said after a while.

"She reminds me," said the passenger to a fellow traveler, "of a woman I met in Bermuda. She took her room at the hotel, then went out, bought some madras, and made herself shirtwaists. I often wondered why she came to Bermuda. She never saw a single thing on the island. But when she went home, she exhibited with pride quite a number of shirtwaists she had made."

"And next winter, when the rest of us are frantically chasing around for our Christmas presents, I expect this girl will say complacently, 'I have mine all made.'"

"But I'd hate most awfully to have Christmas afflict me in that way, wouldn't you?" rejoined the passenger. "I'll never forget this scenery as long as I live, will you?"

"No. Besides it seems to me, she is mixing things up in a way that will work out in harmony of some kind. Christmas and the making of Christmas presents have an atmosphere of their own. So has a vacation. Each in a way has an individuality and a purpose and a result. And they should not be indiscriminately mixed, or some sort of order or harmony is going to be destroyed. And this will work to the surface as disturbance of some kind. It's just a notion of mine, to be sure. And maybe there's nothing in it. But I feel that way about it."

"I had never thought of it that way," said the passenger. "But I do believe if you are going to take a vacation, take a vacation; and if you are going to make Christmas presents, make Christmas presents. I don't think the two mix any more than oil and water do. But it's her funeral, not mine, and I suppose I really shouldn't criticize her."

Then the two continued to enjoy the scenery and the Girl continued her crocheting. Whether she enjoyed it or not, could not be discovered.

Barbara Boyd.

A WOMAN'S OBSERVATIONS

Edna K. Woolley

ing eyes upon you, and swell out your chest and strut and look as if the earth is yours, just because you're feeling so good you can't hold yourself in?

Can you go out into your own garden and pull up your own carrots and beets and such, and proudly carry them into the house for future consumption?

Can you come indoors, after a tramp in your old clothes (you don't care whether they get full of 'stick-ights' or not), so desperately hungry that you relish old shoes fried to find that mother has fresh cornbread, and the kind of vegetable soup you like (the kind that's all sorts of vegetables), and mealy boiled potatoes, and a pork roast and apple sauce and an apple pie—you knowing the pedigree of all those 'eats'? And have you eaten till you loved the whole world? And then have you piled more wood on the fire in the living room and sat there, supinely blissful, with book or needle or just chatting or dreaming, till it's time to go upstairs and jump between bedclothes the heat the smell and feel of only those bedclothes that are aired outdoors?

These are blessed things!

Poor old citizen, who has none of them—who possibly doesn't even know what he's missing!

Yet every day there are those who are voluntarily giving up such blessings to become prisoners among walls of brick and stone, giving up their freedom for the 'corrections' of the multitude, enslaving themselves, physically and spiritually, for artificial comforts, artificial pleasures, and a false idea of success.

HOUSEHOLD HINTS

Please Answer.

Will the Household Sister who last year contributed a Fruit Cake recipe, which has been in her family for several generations, kindly repeat it for the benefit of a reader who has lost her clipping? Mrs. R.

Answers to Inquiries.

For Mrs. Burger—Preparing eggs for invalids: Beat an egg in a teacup. Add tablespoonful cream. Pour over this hot coffee (not boiling) to fill the cup; stir well while pouring coffee to keep heat from curdling eggs.

I take one or two every day in this way. I would suggest three eggs per day until the stomach will bear more, instead of three each meal.

The taste of the egg is almost entirely lost if done correctly. Ella Richard.

The Table.

Sour Rabbit—Cut up two rabbits, leave them in salt water from early morning until evening, then wash in plenty of clean water, put in a large vessel, add two or three onions sliced, eight bay leaves, pour white vinegar over them, let stand until morning, then put cup of butter (or half butter and lard) in a kettle, let it get hot, pour the contents of the bowl in, and, if the rabbits are young, cook 30 minutes. Brown two tablespoons of flour in the oven, moisten with small cup of cream, add it to rabbit, boil 20 minutes longer. Very good; always tastes like 'some more.' Mrs. M. Berndt.

Tit-Tat-Too Cake—Four eggs, 2½ cups sugar, one cup butter, 2½ cups flour, one cup milk, pinch of salt, three tablespoons baking powder. Mix thoroughly to a batter, then divide in three equal parts. First part: Mix one-half cup raisins, one-half teaspoon cinnamon. Second part: Mix two tablespoons chocolate, one teaspoon vanilla. Third part: Flavor with lemon. Bake in layer tins. When done, place together with cream or jelly. Mrs. J. S. Richards.

Mock Pumpkin Pie—One-half teacup prepared breakfast food; fill cup with warm water and soak 20 minutes. Add ginger and spices to suit, three tablespoons sugar, one or two well beaten eggs and a little salt; heat hot on stove, stirring slowly, fill in crust and bake brown. One egg will do, but two are better.

Cream Filling for Layer Cake—One egg, 5 tablespoons sugar, 1 heaping tablespoon cornstarch, 1 level teacup butter, pinch of salt. Cream together, cook in double boiler until thick. When cold add grated apple. Mix and spread between layers. Flavor with vanilla or lemon. Mrs. J. M. Tuttle.

Jelly Hint.

In making grape jelly it just would not jelly.

I took a large glass of apple jelly, added it to the grape, stirred it until dissolved, then let it boil a few minutes longer; jelly was right, with a fine flavor. Mrs. E. H.

Towel Drawer.

If there are no drawers for holding dish towels, holders, cleaning cloths, etc., get a wooden box high enough to make a comfortable seat; furnish with casters, hang cover on hinges, pad top and cover with denim. This makes a suitable receptacle and a comfortable kitchen seat. E. B.

Bees' Burden Light.

The average load of nectar carried to the hive by a bee consists of three tenths of a grain.

Make a plain syrup by mixing one pint of granulated sugar and ½ pint of warm water, and stir for two minutes. Put 21 cents' worth of pure Pinex (fifty cents' worth) in a pint bottle and fill it up with the Sugar Syrup. This gives you a family supply of the best cough syrup at a saving of $2. It never spoils. Take a teaspoonful every one, two or three hours.

The effectiveness of this simple remedy is surprising. It seems to take hold instantly and will usually stop the most obstinate cough in 24 hours. It tones up the inner organs and is just laxative enough to be helpful in a cough, and has a pleasing taste. Also excellent for bronchial trouble, throat tickle, sore lungs and asthma, and an unequalled remedy for whooping cough and croup. This recipe for making cough remedy with Pinex and Sugar Syrup (or strained honey) is a prime favorite in thousands of homes in the United States and Canada. The plan has been imitated, though never successfully. If you try it, use only genuine Pinex, which is the most valuable concentrated compound of Norway white pine extract, and is rich in quaiacal and all the natural healing pine elements. Other preparations will not work in this recipe. A guaranty of absolute satisfaction, or money promptly refunded, goes with this recipe. Your druggist has Pinex, or will get it for you. If not, send to The Pinex Co., Ft. Wayne, Ind.

MISS IDA V. MURWIN WEDS HORACE PEASE

Wedding Celebrated at Home of Bride in Fulton on Wednesday—The Rev. Schoenfeld Officiated.

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.] Fulton, Oct. 29.—A very pretty wedding took place at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Oliver Murwin on Wednesday, October 23, when their daughter, Miss Ida V. was united in marriage to Mr. Horace Pease. The Rev. F. W. Schoenfeld of Edgerton, officiated. At three o'clock the happy couple took their places at the head of the table. The bride was given away by Mr. Oliver Murwin. The bride was attended by the Misses Hortense Ely and Carrie Berg. Frank Pease and Lawrence Kramer acting as best men. The ceremony was witnessed by the families of the contracting parties and a few near friends. Following the service and congratulations a wedding supper was served, after which amid showers of rice the happy couple departed on a short wedding trip.

The home was decorated with autumn leaves and flowers for the occasion and the tables were prettily arranged for the feast. Both the young people are well known and have a host of friends who will join in extending congratulations. They received a great many lovely presents.

Mr. and Mrs. Pease will be at home to their friends after November 1st, in a home awaiting them at Fulton.

The sacred concert Sunday evening was very pleasing and the church was filled to overflowing.

Mrs. Orrie Fessenden, Mrs. S. H. Bentley and Mrs. Orpha Fessenden are visiting friends in Madison.

SPREAD AND SMOKER INAUGURATES SEASON

Members of Lakota Club Hold First of Series of Festivities—Initiate Four New Members.

With a smoker and spread, served at the McDonald cafe, the Lakota Club last night opened the fourth season of its existence. The club starts the new year with sixty members, four of whom were initiated last night. The time of meetings has been changed from the first and third Friday evenings of the month to the first and third Monday evenings, the change being an accommodation to many members of the club. After the business meeting was held the members enjoyed a song festival. A number favored the audience with vocal solos, and Roy Carter and Walter Arlis played piano selections. The present officers of the club are J. P. Hammarlund, president; Forest Fleek, vice president; Oscar Yahn, recording secretary; George Caldwell, financial secretary.

OCTOBER 29

IF THIS IS YOUR BIRTHDAY

Risks are unlucky for you and a steady course is best. Some anxiety about money will trouble you, and you should avoid disagreements with those in power, especially if in employ.

Those born today will have headstrong dispositions, which will get them into trouble; but they will have strength of mind and intelligence, and need only to control and guide themselves in order to succeed.

UNQUESTIONABLE PROOF

Father John's Medicine is Vouched For by Those Who Know of Its History and Merit.

The faith of the people in Father John's Medicine has steadily grown because of the permanent character of its cures, a faith that was increased from the fact that many physicians prescribed it for their patients. It has had over fifty years success as a body builder, and for colds, and all throat and lung troubles. It is indorsed by clergy, doctors, hospitals, and institutions, and by thousands who have used it, as the following impressive indorsements will show:

"We are pleased to indorse Father John's Medicine, knowing of its merit and history." (Signed)

- Rev. E. A. Saunders, St. Peter's Parish, Lowell, Mass.
 - Rev. Richard Boland, St. Michael's Parish, Lowell, Mass.
 - Rev. Nathan W. Matthews, First Primitive Methodist Church, Lowell, Mass.
 - Rev. Richard S. Burke, Wellesley, Mass.
 - Rev. H. C. Lennon, Sacred Heart Parish, Coos, N. H.
 - Rev. J. F. Hickey, St. Mary's Parish, Foxboro, Mass.
 - Rev. Joseph Pontur, Lafargeville, N. Y., and many others.
- Father John's Medicine is in use and prescribed at many Hospitals, Homes and Charitable Institutions. Among the many we have permission to refer to, a few are given below:
- St. John's Hospital, Lowell, Mass.
 - St. Peter's Orphanage, Lowell, Mass.
 - Asylum of St. Vincent de Paul, 215 West 39th street, New York.
 - Notre Dame de Lourdes Hospital, Manchester, N. H.
 - The Ursuline Sisters, Ursuline Convent, Waterville, Me.
 - Sisters of Mercy, St. Joseph's Hospital, New Bedford, Mass.
 - St. Philip's Home for Industrious Boys, New York.
 - Sisters of Holy Cross, Nashua, N. H.
 - St. Patrick's Orphanage, Manchester, N. H., and many others.

These indorsements have been given voluntarily, and are used with the full knowledge and consent of the authors. We have many others, the names of which we shall be pleased to furnish upon application.

"At any rate, old Pierre entered into a bargain to build the boat for him."

"And added to his wealth by the transaction."

Later that morning the old man came ashore, but, according to habit, preserved a shrewd silence; in the afternoon a small number of the crew landed to take on stores and ammunition—of which there was ever a plentiful supply at this base; that night, however, all, including their master, betook themselves to the Cockles.

"Glad to see you ashore, mon capitaine," Pierre Laroché, standing at the door, just beyond reach of the fierce driving rain, welcomed the who bore by their legs half-plucked fowls and birds—woodcock, wild duck, cliff pigeons—and made his way to the great open fireplace at one end of the room. There, bending over the glowing embers, the landlord deliberately stirred and spread them; then, reaching for a bar of steel, he selected a poulet from the hand of the lanky attendant and prepared to adjust it; but before doing so, prodded it with his finger, surveyed it critically, and held it up for admiring attention.

"Who says old Pierre Laroché doesn't know how to care for his friends? What think you of it, my masters?"

"Plump as the King's confessor," muttered the poet.

"Or your King himself!" said one of the islanders.

"On with the King! Skewer the King!" exclaimed a fierce voice.

"And then we'll eat him!" laughed the girl, showing her white teeth.

"Thoughtless children!" From his place at the table in the small room adjoining, the priest, attracted by the grim merriment of the islanders, looked down to regard them; the red fire, the red gown.

"Here, at least, will you find a safe asylum, Father," said his companion, the Black Seigneur, in an absent tone; "a little rough, perhaps, to suit your calling."

"The rougher, the more suitable—as I've often had occasion to learn since leaving Verranch."

"Since being driven from it, you mean?" shortly.

"Ah, those revolutionary documents—placed in my garden!"

"To make you appear—you, Father!—a sanguinary character!" But the other's laugh rang false.

"Alas, such wickedness! But I was too content; the rose-covered cottage too comfortable; its garden, an Eden! It was more meet I should be driven forth; go out into the highways, where I found—such misery! I reproached myself I had not sought it sooner—voluntarily. From north to south peasants dying, women and children starving, no one to administer the last rites—on every side, work, work for the outcast priest!—For ten years it has occupied him—a blessed privilege."

"And then," the young man, who had seemed absorbed in other thoughts, hardly listening, looked mechanically up, "you came back?"

"A weakness of age! To see the old place once more! The little church; God's acre at its side; to stand on the hill at Verranch and look out a last time over the beautiful vale toward the Mount!" Briefly he paused. "Yet I am glad I yielded to the temptation; otherwise should I not have met your old servant, Sanchez, who told me all—how you had long been looking for me, and arranged our meeting for that day—on the island of Casquel!"

"But not," the young man's demeanor at once became intent; his eyes gleamed with sudden fierce lights, "for what followed?"

The priest sighed. "Shall I ever forget it? The terrible night, the troopship, the killed and wounded. And the poor fellows taken prisoners! I can not but think of them and their fate. What will it be?"

The other did not answer; only impatiently moved his injured arm and, regarding him, the down-turned, dark countenance, the knit brows, quickly the priest changed the subject of conversation.

In the large room some one began to play, and before the fire, where now the birds were turning and the serving-lad, with a long spoon was basting, the dark-browed girl started to dance. At the side of the hearth old Pierre smoked stolidly, gazed at the coals, and dreamed—perhaps of the past, and dangers he had himself encountered, or of the present, and his ships scattered—where?—on profitable, in no freer mood than on the occasion of their first visit to the inn, the crew looked on; but a tall, savage-appearing islander soon matched her step; a second took his place; from one partner to another she passed—wild, reckless men whose touch she did not shun; yet it might have been noticed her eyes turned often, through wreaths of smoke, mist-like in the glare and glimmer of dips and torches, toward the Black Seigneur.

Why—her gaze seemed to say—did he not join them, instead of sitting there with a priest? She whirled to the threshold; her flushed face looked in. "Are you saying a mass for the souls of your men who were captured?"

"I see," he returned quietly, "you have been gossiping."

"A woman's privilege!" she flashed back. "But how did it happen? And not only your arm," more sharply regarding him, "but your head! I fancy if I were to push back a few locks of that thick hair I should discover—it must have been a pretty blow you got, my Seigneur Solitude!" He made no reply and she went on. "You, who I thought were never beaten! By a mere handful of troops, too! Did you have to run away very fast? If I were a man—"

"Your tongue would be less sharp," he answered coolly, the black eyes indifferent.

"Much you care for my tongue!" she retorted.

"No!"

"No!" she returned mockingly, when above the din of voices, the crackling of the fire, and the wild moaning of the wind in the chimney, a low, but distinct and prolonged call was heard—from somewhere without, below.

"What is that?" Quickly Nanette turned; superstitious, after the fashion of most of her people, a little of the color left her cheek. Again was it wadded to them, nearer, plainer! "The voices of dead men from the sea!"

"More like some one on the steps who would like to get in—some fisherman who has just got to shore!" said old Pierre Laroché, waking up and emptying his pipe. "Throw open the door. The stones are slippery—the night dark."

One of the crew obeyed, and, as the wind entered sharply, and the lights flickered and grew dim, there half staggered, half rushed from the gloom, the figure of a man, wild, wet, whose clothes were torn and whose face was freshly cut and marked with many livid signs of violence.

"Sanchez!" From his place the Black Seigneur rose.

The others looked around wonderingly; some with rough pity. "What's the matter, man?" said one. "You look as if you had had a bad fall."

"Fall!" Standing in the center of the room, where he had come to a sudden stop, the man gazed, bewildered, resentful, about him; then above the circle of questioning faces, his uncertain look lifted; caught and remained fixed on that of the Black Seigneur. "Fall!" he repeated, articulating with difficulty. "No! I fell—no fall—but I will speak—with my master—alone!"

CHAPTER XIII.

The Seething of the Sea.

"I have concluded to deal leniently with you," said the Governor; "set you free! I could not believe."

Alone in the little chamber, the door of which now was closed, shutting them from sight of the company in the general eating and drinking room adjoining, Sanchez and the Black Seigneur sat together. Before them the vials that had been placed on the table were untouched; the filled glasses, untasted. As he spoke, the man bent forward, his words disjointed; his eyes gleaming.

"But," the Governor added, "the criminal must be taught not to forget; then turned to his soldiers. 'Beat me this fellow from the Mount!' he commanded."

"Hiding!"

"Behind the coping to listen when he, her father, was questioning me! And, when I looked up and caught her, she walked out—to show me I might as well confess!"

"She did that?"

"Then tried to cozen me into believing it was not through her," went on the man bitterly, as if speaking to himself. "But I know the lying blood—none better—and when she saw it was no use," he paused and looked up, the marks of the stripes on his face seeming suddenly to burn and grow livid, "she acknowledged it to my face! I won't deny. Those were her words! And when she left the place, she turned around to look back at me—and laugh—"

"GETS-IT" Will Get Any Corn, Sure!

Almost Like Magic. Guaranteed.

You'll Quit Everything Else for "GETS-IT."

Any corn just loves to be cut and gouged, but it's mighty rough on you. Plasters and salves usually take away some of the toe with them, and leave the corn to fester.

The new corn cure "GETS-IT" is perfectly harmless to the healthy flesh, but it does go for a corn, bunions, callous or wart right off the root. The corn shrivels away from the healthy flesh and drops off.

You can apply "GETS-IT" in two seconds and it begins its work right off. Pretty soon you'll forget you ever had corns or bunions.

"GETS-IT" is sold at all druggists, at 25 cents a bottle, or sent on receipt of price by E. Lawrence & Co., Chicago.

Sold in Jansville by McKee & Buss, Smith Drug Co., Reliable Drug Co., J. P. Baker & Son.

"What!" The blood sprang to the dark face of the listener; he half started from his chair.

"And they did! A merry chase, down the streets, across the sands! I, an old soldier!" His voice choked.

"Beaten like a dog!"

For some moments the young man looked at him; then again sank back, stared straight ahead. Without the laughter and harsh voices of the islanders had become louder; within the little chamber, the only sound now was the hard, persistent ticking of the clock on the shelf.

"But how," at length Desaurac made a movement, "did he—"

"Learn!" violently. "The way I told you he would!"

"You mean—"

"That I was betrayed and you were—by the Lady Elise—"

"Impossible!" the Black Seigneur exclaimed with sudden violence.

"Because she has a pretty face!" sneered the other.

"Silence! Or—"

"That is it!" The servant's voice rose stridently. "Beaten, at one end, threatened at the other!"

The arm the young man had reached out fell to his side. "Hush! You're mad; you don't know what you're saying!"

"And you did not know what you were doing! Oh, I dare say—I tell you now I little liked the task of taking her back; expecting some sort of treachery, and when it came, was not surprised! Any more than, when they had brought me before the Governor, I saw her at the cloister—watching, hiding!"

"Hiding!"

"Behind the coping to listen when he, her father, was questioning me! And, when I looked up and caught her, she walked out—to show me I might as well confess!"

"She did that?"

"Then tried to cozen me into believing it was not through her," went on the man bitterly, as if speaking to himself. Owes Life to This Consumption Remedy

It is beyond human power to perform miracles. The makers of Eckman's Alternative, a remedy for Consumption, do not claim that it will restore every one to perfect health, but so many have voluntarily testified it saved their lives, that all who have this dread disease should investigate and try it. It should stop the night sweats, reduce fever, promote appetite and in very many cases, prolong life. Read what it accomplished in this case:

Catherine Ave. and Ascot Place.

"Gentlemen:—In the year 1908, I was taken with a heavy cold and a nasty cough and went to several doctors, including a specialist. Their medicines failed. I then went to the Catskills, but the cough still kept up. I stayed there a year and then went to a farm near Jersey City, a very sick man."

"My brother then recommended Eckman's Alternative to me very highly. At first I would not consent to use it, owing to the fact that I had taken so many medicines without being helped in any way, but finally I consented. It is now nearly two years since I first took it. I am now cured and I dare say that I would have been cured long ago if I had not been for Eckman's Alternative. I wish to thank you for the Godsend to me. Whenever I go I highly recommend the Alternative as I owe my life to it." (Signed) ALFRED J. TROSCHEER.

Eckman's Alternative is effective in Bronchitis, Asthma, Hay Fever, Whooping Cough, Lung Trouble, and in upbuilding the system. Does not contain poisons, opiates or habit-forming drugs. Ask for booklet telling of recoveries and write to Eckman Laboratory, Philadelphia, Pa., for more information. For sale by all leading druggists and Smith Drug Co., McKee & Buss, Peoples' Drug Co., in Jansville.

UNCLE WALT

Help your town along by boosting! Wear a bright and hopeful face. Do not be forever roosting somewhere near the walling place! You can't help your town, by knocking, if it's in a backward groove, but some optimistic talking does a lot to help things move. In the mud one town was sticking, evidently anchored there, for her people all were kicking, all were dishing up despair. All were growling over their taxes, shedding teardrops in a stream, all had hammers, clubs and axes ready for each helpful scheme. So the village sat and rotted till a booster landed there, soon the trouble's seat he spotted, saw the fergus in the air, and he jarred the village croakers, stirred them up to hump along, till the place was full of jokers and the breeze was full of song. Citizens forsook the habit of bewailing this and that, and the timid business rabbit rustled like a tiger cat, and they all turned in kerwhopping, singing forth the hamlet's praise, and that hamlet, lately drooping, filled its neighbors with amaze. Now, this story, true as preaching shows, that one lone man can do, if instead of doleful screeching, he yells "cock-a-doodle!" For you stimulate your neighbor every time you give three cheers, and the harvest of your labors will be reaped in coming years.

Martin Hansen, 609 S. 3rd St., La Crosse, writes: "For a couple of years I had kidney trouble. There was a painful pressure of the bladder also, and great irregularity. I heard of Foley Kidney Pills and took them. In a short time the pain passed away and the action became more regular and normal, and I gladly recommend Foley Kidney Pills." Badger Drug Co.

FORTY YEARS AGO

Janesville Daily Gazette, Oct. 29, 1872—Board of Registry: The Boards of Registry have been in session at the various polling places today, for the purpose of adding names not already on the list. In the Second ward the place of registry was changed to the Dearborn house, the engine house affording no convenience for the prosecution of the work. Tomorrow is the last day for registering and we hope that no republican will neglect this important day. The predominating feature of today is dust and its necessary accompaniment—wind. The two have held high carnival in the side streets all day and on the main thoroughfares. The conductors of the sprinkling cars have kept their steeds in a perspiring mood since the rising of the sun by a spirited combat with the only enemy which rears its head to disturb their peace of mind. The wind and dust seem an unwelcome intrusion on the glories of our Indian summer.

Church Museum: The ladies of the First M. E. church contemplate giving an entertainment of quite a novel character, in the church, soon after the frescoing is completed. A large collection of pictures, plants, stuffed birds, shells, fossils, statuary, cone work, etc., will be on exhibition for several days. Evenings there will be music, tableaux, pantomimes, etc. To refresh the inner man, oysters, cake and coffee will be provided.

The Right Spirit.

While I gaze out on the forest and hills and the beautiful sunlight, I wait God's love to shine into my heart, as the sun shines upon the earth.—Tennessee Housewife.

H. L. Bloomquist, a very well known merchant of Esdale, Pierce Co., Wis., says: "My wife considers Foley's Honey and Tar Compound the best cough cure in the market. She had used various kinds, but Foley's Honey and Tar Compound gives us the best results of all." Badger Drug Co.

Never Let Him Forget It. The man who owes all to his wife is not going to be permitted to forget it this side of the main entrance to the cemetery in which the family lot is situated.—Houston Post.

PUBLIC NOTICE

Persons Answering Fraudulent Advertisements Asked to Notify Gazette.

The Gazette is desirous of keeping out of its columns fraudulent advertising and asks the assistance of its patrons to that end.

There are many number of concerns in the country who make a living through a nicely worded advertisement, offering golden opportunities, and these unscrupulous people find fertile ground for work among the masses.

Many orders are received in the Gazette mail for advertising which are returned as objectionable and where there is a question as to the qualifications the advertisement is omitted. All newspapers have this experience.

But even with the utmost care there will be an occasional advertisement which will pass the scrutiny of the business department of the paper and find its way into the columns.

The Gazette will deem it a favor if you will report to the office any trouble which may have been experienced through the answering of such an advertisement.
